SEARCHMONT, Ont., Aug. 1—(AP)—Three sportsmen were killed today when their amphibian plane crashed on the fog-shrouded summit of a 1,000-foot hill.

The victims were Donald H. Werner, 28, Akron, Ohio, identified as a U. S. Vice Consul to Greenland; Henry G. Thibert, 29, Detroit, and John Litzan, 40, Cedarville, Mich.

The men were flying back to Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., about 20 miles south of here, from a fishing trip in the Ontario backwoods.

Line Forms to Aid Tornado Victims

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 1—(AP)—It took eight traffic officers today to handle the people who wanted to give money away.

There was no catch to it. The folks just wanted to help the Frank Ballweg family and they stood in line to pour their money into a big pickle jar.

The jar stood at the gate of what was left of the Ballweg farm home, 17 miles northwest of here. And the jar has taken in more than $5,000.

A tornado flattened the Ballweg home last Thursday night. Mr. and Mrs. Ballweg and nine of their children were injured. And Lucille, their 10-year-old daughter, was killed.

Neighbor Werner Rauls set the jar at the gate the next morning.

Harley George, Clark County Chief Deputy Probation Officer, said the girl was found in the company of Bill Goodrich, of Bonneville, Wash., a carnival worker.

Molotov Considers Proposal

By THE UNITED PRESS

Western Allied diplomats have asked for a conference with Premier Josef Stalin so they can ask him personally to lift the Berlin blockade and agree to a full-scale four-power conference on the entire German situation, high sources said last night.

A French Embassy source confirmed the report that representatives of France, Britain and the U. S. have asked to go direct to Stalin. This source said Foreign Minister Viacheslav M. Molotov is considering the request.

There had been no word by last night whether Stalin would receive the Western representatives. It was expected such word probably would come today, but the possibility was not overlooked that several days may elapse before anything definite is known.

The French News Agency, AFP, quoted by the German DENA agency in Frankfurt, reported last night that Stalin would receive the Western representatives Sunday or Monday. In Washington, the State Department would neither confirm nor deny the report.

A source close to the Western representatives said a simple, two-point plan was agreed on at a London conference. He said the first point seeks elimination of transportation difficulties in Germany. The second asks for talks on the entire German situation, probably by foreign ministers.

Frank Roberts, Britain's special envoy; French Ambassador Yves Chataigneau and U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith all appeared in high spirits last night after asking Molotov to arrange the conference.

In Athens, a general staff communique said Greek troops had seized the strategically important Kleptis Height in Northwestern Greece. Communist-led guerrillas had put up a desperate defense of the 6,000-foot peak for weeks.

The official Yugoslav news agency, Tanjug, announced the Yugoslav Ambassador to Romania had been dismissed as an aftermath of the split between Yugoslav Communists and the Cominform.

Italian Communist leader Palmiro Togliatti said the attempt on his life July 14 showed there are forces in Italy trying to "spread the fire of civil war." He announced his retirement from politics until he recovers completely from his wounds. Leadership of the party is placed in the hands of Sen. Pietro Secchia and Deputy Luigi Longo, both known as firebrands.

Two Belgian officers of the United Nations truce observers' staff were slightly injured yesterday when the first UN food convoy from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem was fired on.

Two heavy explosions shook the business district of Cairo yesterday afternoon.

First reports said one blast occurred in the Antonine Aghami building on Mustapha Kamel Circle and the other at the rear of the Gattegno store and the Egyptian State Telegraph office.

2 Cars Hit Army Truck In Liberty

Death stalked Georgia highways yesterday when five persons lost their lives and several others were injured, three seriously, in separate traffic accidents throughout the state, the State Highway Patrol reported.

Three Ludowici youths were dead and three others in serious condition late last night in a Jesup hospital as the result of a collision of two cars and an Army truck. The truck was in a convoy bringing National Guardsmen to Elberton after two weeks of Summer training.

The accident happened six miles west of Allenhurst in Liberty County on State Highway 38.

The three fatally injured were listed as J. D. Gibbs, 22; Harry M. McClelland, 23, and John P. Farrett, 24.

Listed as seriously injured in the same crash were Marvin L. Gibbs, 16, relative of the dead man; W. C. Wells, 19, and Nathan Smith, 34.

Amos R. Howard, 24, lone occupant of one of the autos, and Willis Bradford, 21, National Guardsman and driver of the truck, were uninjured.

Those killed and injured were all riding in the car driven by Smith, troopers reported.

Investigating troopers W. M. Bruce and W. G. Horne said the Smith car sideswiped the Howard auto and crashed head-on into the truck driving in the convoy.

The impact of the crash knocked off a front wheel of the big truck, officers reported. Smith's car was demolished, but Howard's auto was only slightly damaged, officers said.

Henry Smith, 24, of Sparks, was killed early yesterday when the motor bike he was riding collided with a truck on U. S. Hhighway 41 near Sparks.

Cook County Sheriff C. A. Vitrum said he arrested Frank Hammock, Valdosta truck driver, and will hold a hearing today in connection with the youth's death. He quoted Hammock as saying the youth was driving along the highway without lights.

John Barney Westmoreland, 71, was fatally injured near Logansville yesterday when he was thrown off the back of a truck after the vehicle ran off the highway, the patrol reported. Officers said a car driven by Carl S. Affgood, 33, of Oxford, attempted to pass the truck but cut too short, forcing the truck off the road. The truck and the car were only slightly damaged, and no one else was injured.

The State Patrol reported Alton Colman, 42, was struck by an auto driven by Walter Parks, 30, of Griffin, as Colman was attempting to pull another auto out of a ditch at Jackson. Colman was reported in fair condition at a Griffin hospital.

60 Lepers Flee Hospital In Manila

MANILA, Monday, Aug. 2—(AP) The Daily Bulletin said this morning 60 of 226 lepers in Manila's San Lazaro Hospital had escaped during the night and the remainder were on a sitdown strike. The patients were protesting a Secretary of Health order transferring them to a Central Luzon leprosarium nine miles northeast of Manila.

Escapees reportedly found refuge with families or friends, rather than risk exile to the leprosarium at Tala Novaliches, on the fringe of the Sierra Madre. Those who stayed said policemen would have to drag them, or carry them beds and all before they'd move.

B-29s Complete Coast To Coast Round Trip

NEW YORK, Aug. 1—(AP)—Three Army B-29 bombers landed at New York International Airport at Idlewild late today, completing a 5,000-mile, non-stop flight to Los Angeles and return.

The first of the planes set down at the world's largest airport at 2:38 p. m. (EST), 21 hours and 38 minutes after leaving. The second plane landed four minutes later and the third at 3:54 p. m. (Eastern Standard Time).

The craft had left at 5 p. m. (EST) yesterday at the conclusion of the nation's mightiest peacetime air display held as part of the field's dedication ceremonies.

MT. GILEAD CAMP MEETING CONGREGATION PACKS ARBOR

THE PEACE THAT COMES . . .

3,000 Voices Ring Out at Gilead

By BILL HARRELL

Less than 20 miles from bustling Five Points, a peaceful quiet came to worshippers last night who were "tenting on the old camp grounds."

The pilgrimage to historic Mt. Gilead Camp Ground near Ben Hill began yesterday morning. By late afternoon the 114th annual Camp Meeting at this fountainhead of religious fervor was in full swing.

More than 3,000 voices rang out clear and strong on "Count Your Many Blessings." Faces were bright as men, women and children found the peace that comes from divine worship. You knew there was an inner light glowing even brighter in their hearts.

As the hours passed the crowd kept coming. The 3,000 seats in the arbor, central meeting place on the camp grounds, were filled when afternoon services began. A few hundred stood behind the last row of seats. Others stood a few hundred yards away where loud speakers, rigged above them in sheltering oak trees, carried the message for all to hear.

The "tenters" enjoyed the sermon in luxury. Approximately 200 were camping for the entire week in cottages and bungalows. They relaxed in comfortable chairs on their front porches and drank deep of the words of religion, coming over the loud speakers. Another 75, guests at the hotel on the grounds, listened from that haven, which is operated by Jack Towns. Chairman of the Building and Grounds Committee.

A sign proclaiming it the "Haven of Rest" hung from one of the newer bungalows. It belongs to E. I. Greer, of East Point.

Seasoned camp-goers and the uninitiated listened alike yesterday afternoon as Dr. S. F. Dowis, Superintendent of city and rural work for the home mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, called for a world-wide spiritual revival.

The services, launched yesterday morning with 2,000 attending, will continue through next Sunday night. Dr. Joseph W. Owen, Pastor of St. Mark's Methodist Church, will preach daily at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Various Fulton County ministers will fill the pulpit each afternoon at 3 o'clock.

An estimated 30,000 persons are expected to attend before the week is over.

Spy Queen Link Laid To Condon

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1—(INS) Dr. Edward U. Condon, famed atomic scientist and head of the Bureau of Standards, was charged today with "associating" with members of the Communist network of self-styled "Spy Queen" Elizabeth Bentley.

A source close to the House Un-American Activities Committee said Condon knew Nathan Gregory Silvermaster, identified by Miss Bentley in sworn testimony as the Washington head of the Russian espionage organization. Silvermaster termed her story "preposterous."

Silvermaster

The source declared Condon, once called by the Committee the "weakest link in our atomic-security chain," knew others named by Miss Bentley Saturday in sensational testimony before the House group.

Condon said he would not "confirm or deny" the charge

Miss Bentley singled out Lauchlin Currie, Administrative Assistant to the late President Roosevelt, and former Assistant Treasury Secretary Harry D. White as sources of information for the spy ring.

Both Currie and White, who were among 25 former and active Federal aides linked with the ring, will be called to testify before the Committee within the next week or 10 days. Both immediately denied any association with Communism or the spy ring.

Robert T. Stripling, General Counsel of the Committee, said subpoenas already had been served on Silvermaster; Charles Kramer, said to have been employed in the offices of Sens. Pepper, Democrat, Florida, and Kilgore, Democrat, West Virginia, and Harry Magdoff, former War Production Board and Commerce Department employee.

Whether Condon, who was recently given a clean bill of health by the Security Branch of the Atomic Energy Commission, will be called to appear remained undecided.

The Committee will meet in executive session tomorrow to map plans for pushing forward its investigation.

Committee Chairman Thomas, Republican, New Jersey, said Currie and White "probably will be among the first witnesses we will hear."

Currie, charged with telling the spy ring during the war the U. S. had cracked the Russian code, said in New York he did not give military secrets to anybody.

Miss Bentley has admitted she never saw Currie, but she got the purported information through Silvermaster, who allegedly obtained it from Currie through "planted" individuals working for the Government.

Women In Berlin Laud West

BERLIN, Aug. 1—(INS)—Berlin women lauded the West and attacked Communism at an unprecedented demonstration today.

Housewives, who traditionally have shied away from politics of all kinds, got into the stormiest international political controversy at a memorial service for four American airmen and a civilian.

The Americans died in recent crashes of planes while helping to supply Soviet-blockaded Berlin.

The service, held in Schoeneberg Rathgaus Square, featured a speech by Hilde Koerber, prominent German actress.

She said, it was a "spontaneous expression by Berlin housewives of their conviction that without Western aid we can not resist Communism and can not live."

The actress read a letter from Frau Gertrude Petastenaci, a German mother living in the apartment house against which the C-47 crashed. The Americans, it said, "were the victims of the merciless blockade" by the Russians and that Germans in the City "likewise are innocent victims of a Russian attempt to impose their will on a nation by terror."

'Night-Number' Racket Here Vies With 'Bug' as Quick-Money Maker

By KEELER McCARTNEY

The three-week-old "Night Number" racket in Atlanta has expanded rapidly enough to challenge the reputation of the old daytime lottery as a "quick-money" enterprise, police admitted yesterday.

As yet Vice Squad detectives have not been able to strike a telling blow against the new racket, although the entire detective force has been instructed to aid in the investigation.

Informers say the "night game" is played similarly to the day lottery except the winning number is arrived at by drawing numbered balls out of a basket. The numbers on the balls and the order in which they are drawn determine the winning number.

The daytime lottery winner has been selected on the third, fourth and fifth digits of the daily bond total.

Betting odds on three numbers in the "night game" are 1,000-to-1 and the pay-off odds are 450-to-1, as in the daytime lottery.

At first Vice Squad men were not overly concerned about the new racket. It began as purely a venture among Negroes who had shied away from the ill-fated day lottery because of police pressure and repeated failure of operators to pay off heavy winning numbers.

Now, however, informers say at least one white man has an interest in the "night" game. One company reportedly has acquired a financial capital of more than $100,000.

Chief efforts of the police thus far have been directed toward locating places where the drawings will be held.

Apparently the operators trust no one. They drive around selecting at random five persons from different sections of the city to "witness" the drawings, and each night they stop in a different place to stage the drawing.

The drawings are held between 10 and 10:15 at night, detectives have been informed.

After the drawing, the operators launch a series of chain telephone calls by which the winning number is distributed.

In addition to the secrecy about the selection of the number, the "night game" personnel apparently are selected with the greatest care. The "writers" arrested so far carry only plain sheets of paper on which the bets are listed.

They tell of picking up the forms left hidden in a clump of weeds or grass and transporting it to another such spot. They insist they do not know who left the form for them, and they have no idea who picks it up again after they deliver it.

Information indicates the "night" operators employ an entirely different crew — unknown to the writers and pickup men—to pay off winning numbers.

After a story in The Constitution two weeks ago pointed out the ease with which the balls could be selected to avoid paying off heavy hits, one informer said the "night game" racket dropped off one half. Now, however, he says it is building up again.

Six-Engined Flying Boat, 52 Aboard, Missing on Flight Over Atlantic

PARIS, France, Aug. 1—(UP) Air France announced tonight that one of its six-engined Trans-Atlantic flying boats, the largest commercial plane in the world, is missing on a flight between Martinique and French West Africa with 52 persons aboard.

The last reported word from the giant craft, a "Latecoere 631," said the ship was in distress over the Atlantic. No position was given. The message was picked up by an American radio station in the Azores and relayed to the United States Embassy here.

At least one warship, French Navy planes, a second Latecoere 631 and an Air France Constellation have started an air-sea search for the big craft, one of five built in France and used by Air France lines. Ships at sea have been notified.

Should the plane be lost with all aboard, it would be the second worst aviation disaster. Fifty-three died when a Douglas DC-4 crashed in Maryland in May, 1947. Fifty three also were killed when a DC-4 cracked into a mountain in Colombia, South America, in February, 1947.

The flying boat left Fort de France in the French West Indies at 9:50 a. m. (EST) yesterday, Air France said. It was due at Port Etienne, north of Dakar, in French West Africa at 2 a. m. today.

Air France said its last message from the plane at 8:10 p. m. last night reported all well aboard.

The plane carried 40 passengers and a crew of 12. Air France officials had not yet received a passenger list from Martinique.

Work was begun on the Latecoere 631 before the war and resumed after the war. Immediately after liberation eight of them were ordered. They are the largest aircraft used in commercial service in the world.

The second Latecoere took off at noon to join the search and the Constellation left Paris a short time later. The warship was dispatched from Dakar.

U. S. Anti-Red Teaching Banned--Studebaker

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1—(AP)—Censorship has barred the U. S. Office of Education from "exposing the tactics and dangers of Communism" in the schools, John W. Studebaker said today.

The former Commissioner of Education said censorship on speeches and statements from his office was imposed by Oscar Ewing, Federal Security Administrator. He complained that an unnamed Ewing aide had rejected a speech urging teachers to expose Communism.

Studebaker, who retired July 15, wrote Ewing protesting against moves he said would centralize authority over education in the Administrator, whom he described as "a partisan politician."

At Searsport, Me., Ewing said his Department exercised "no censorship that I know of" on speeches and statements from the Education office.

Ewing, a close friend and political adviser of President Truman, declined further comment. He is vacationing in Maine, and told the Associated Press its report was the first he had heard of Studebaker's statement.

In a 3,500-word letter, copies of which were sent to Senate and House Appropriations Committee members, Studebaker said Ewing ordered that the Administrator's staff approve in advance every statement or speech written by the Office of Education for public use. The office is one of the agencies under the FSA.

Studebaker said this resulted in a ruling by an unnamed staff member that the task of explaining Communist tactics to high school and college students "be left to the State Department and the FBI" instead of to the Education Division.

He said the ruling came on a proposed speech by a member of the Education Office staff to a group of Massachusetts high school principals on "Teaching Zeal for American Democracy."

The staff member, he said, prepared a speech in which he "stressed the importance of developing means of teaching high school pupils what Communism really is, how inimical it is to the free world."

Studebaker said the Ewing assistant had turned the speech back with the comment that the Office of Education should "leave to the State Department and to the FBI the task of exposing the tactics and dangers of Russian Communists and travelers."

WAGE OUTLOOK BRIGHT, TOO—Miss Evelyn Jolly, of Cedartown, was object of first cheers at the annual meeting of the Georgia CIO Textile Workers of America when Kenneth Douty, State CIO Director, crowned her "Miss TWUA, 1948." More cheers came when Douty announced that an eight percent wage increase at the vast Dan River Mills in Danville, Va., probably would set a pattern for textile wage increases in Georgia.

Wage Pattern Outlook Cheers TWUA Group

By MARK WAITS
Constitution State News Service.

CEDARTOWN, Aug. 1—The announcement of the eight percent wage increase for textile workers in the vast Dan River Mills in Danville, Va., and the possibility that it would set a blanket wage pattern to be followed in Georgia mills provided a cheering climax for the annual meeting of the TWUA-CIO here late today.

Appropriately timed, the announcement was made by Kenneth Douty, State TWUA director, after talking with John Chupka, TWUA Vice President, who was scheduled to speak at todays session of the two-day meeting here, but was unable to attend because of the continued wage negotiations in South Carolina.

Concerning the increase in the Dan River mills, Douty told the some 300 delegates this was the first break in the wage pattern. "Whether a pattern will be set and followed in the Georgia mills will depend on the outcome of the negotiations now under way at the Lowenstein chain in Rock Hill, South Carolina."

For the delegates themselves, it was the end of a perfect conference. Almost tantamount to the announcement of a wage increase possibility was the adopting and approving of a resolution "that would either grant outright scholarships to worthy children or would make educational loans to enable them to secure a college education."

The resolution stipulated that a committee be set up to explore the possibilities of such a program. Garland Brook, Griffin, Chairman of the Resolution Committee, presented the issue.

Saturday night delegates forgot business to see Miss Evelyn Jolly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Jolly, of Cedartown, be named "Miss TWUA—1948" over 28 other Georgia beauties.

Another feature of today's session was the presentation of a three-scene playlet given by 10 Cedartown youngsters under the direction of Miss Ruth Warren.

Earlier this afternoon, they heard Wright Bryan, editor of the Atlanta Journal, present his views on "An Editor Looks to Labor."

Representatives at the meeting gave Bryan an applause when he praised Mark Temple, Journal labor writer who died last week.

One of the highlights of the Sunday session was the presentation for the first time at the annu almeeting of service awards to members of unions who had done the most for the union and for respective communities.

Awards were presented to the following by Douty:

COMMUNITY ACTIVITIES—Tennie Short, Athens; Mrs. Lillian Chandler, Greensboro; Otis Leonard, Dalton; C. N. King, Rome; Veto Gamel, Cedartown, and Nolan Burkhalter, Aragon.

POLITICAL ACTION—John Crawford, Athens; N. E. Perkins, Greensboro; Homer Craig, Dalton; E. D. Clower, Atlanta; James Dotson and Mrs. Bertha Gailey, Dalton; J. W. Hill, Cedartown; Hugh H. Gammon, Rome; Aubra Venable, Cedartown; Dewey Ward, Aragon, and C. C. Hood, Rome.

'Camp Incident' Will Be Studied

Dr. Felton Williams, Executive Director of Atlanta's Mission, yesterday said he would ask the Board of Directors of the Mission to meet this week to study circumstances which led to the replacement last week of six counselors at the Mountain View Camp for Girls.

Dr. Williams said the six counselors, all college graduates, "got mad" about an incident which occurred at the girls' camp last week. He said that after "everything went to pieces, we thought we'd better let the girls go." He added that the counselors had "done a fine job," until last week.

Meanwhile, according to Dr. Williams, six new counselors have been employed, and they will continue activities at the camp this week.

Mountain View is a free camp for six to 14-year-old girls from low-income families. It is located south of Atlanta on the Roosevelt Highway, and is operated by Atlanta's Mission.

CAR PERFORMS CIRCUS-LIKE STUNTS

An automobile which performed like a circus tumbler was discovered yesterday by Atlanta police.

Patrolmen J. M. Stephens and W. J. Hendrix reported that Lewis E. Ryckeley, 35, of 546 Morgan St., N. E., and his wife, Mrs. Ruby Ryckeley, were driving on Moreland Avenue near Lyndale Avenue about 6 a. m. yesterday. Apparently, they said, Ryckeley went to sleep—and things began to happen.

First, police said, the car brushed against the curb and continued alongside it for 111 feet. Then it jumped up on the curb and snapped a utility pole, they said. With the pole on top of the car, officers said, it continued down the sidewalk for another 66 feet, did a complete flip and came to a halt headed back in the direction from which it had come.

Mr. and Mrs Ryckeley were treated at Grady Hospital. Charges of reckless driving were docketed against Ryckeley.

Confiscating Krupp Realm Touches Ticklish Question

NUERNBERG, Germany, Aug. 1—(AP)—The Krupp war crimes trial has touched off a battle for property worth millions of dollars, it became apparent today. Perhaps only the U. S. Supreme Court can settle the issue.

In convicting Alfried Krupp Von Bohlen und Halbach yesterday of slave labor malpractices and plunder of foreign industry, an American court also ordered confiscation of his property.

What is Krupp's property? That is the key question. It is so confused that the presiding judge of the court was against permitting the judgment to become enmeshed in such a maze. So he, Judge H. C. Anderson, of Jackson, Tenn., dissented from this part of the sentence. He went along with the 12-year term imposed on Krupp, but said he believed the other prison terms for ten of the Krupp directorate were too stiff.

Krupp attorneys announced they would appeal the case to the U. S. Supreme Court.

When Krupp took over the reins of the gun-making firm from his father and mother in 1943, he was listed as "sole owner." Until then, Bertha Krupp, his mother, retained virtual control and possession. His ownership was recognized by Hitler with a special decree.

Otto Kranzbuehler, counsel for the Krupps, commented: "If you recognize Nazi law, Alfried Krupp is the owner."

If confiscation would be put into effect on that basis, Kranzbuehler said he assumed it would be by the Allied Control Council. That would give Soviet Russia a chunk of the Ruhr.

The Krupp steel plants are operating now under British Military Government supervision. Profits go into a frozen fund.

SAYRES SAY IT WITH MUSIC—This unique musical family, the four Sayres and "Daddy," are known to thousands of Atlantans who have seen them together in shows, restaurants and on the downtown streets. They are equally well known for their musical talents. J. Louis, Jr., and Jo-Ann, back row, and George and Sylvia team with "Daddy" Sayre in playing for civic clubs and at Shrine functions.

MUSICAL FIVE HEADED BY 'PATRIARCH'

Daddy Sayre's Philosophy Spells Warm Harmony in Unique Family

By PAUL JONES

A kindly, gray-haired woman sidled slowly up to a table in a downtown restaurant where a family of five was having dinner.

She touched the shepherd of the flock on the shoulder. "Sir," she began, "I just wanted to compliment you on the manners of your grandchildren."

The shepherd, slightly miffed by the woman's reference that he was a patriarch, rose and replied: "Madam, they're all my own blood children."

She had, like thousands of other Atlantans, encountered the Four Sayres and "Daddy," a unique Atlanta musical family.

Incidents like this happen almost daily to the Sayres in theaters, restaurants, on the Highland Avenue trackless trolley and on downtown streets, in the YMCA and YWCA. Everywhere the children go they are shepherded by "Daddy" J. Louis Sayre, who has played father — and "mother"— to the youngsters for many years.

He cooks their breakfast, mends their clothes, sees them off to school, studies their lessons with them, accompanies them to dinner in a restaurant each night and to the theater afterward. But, he never goes to a show himself. He's always too busy earning a living for his happy brood to seek entertainment for himself.

"Daddy" is an organist and piano tuner and each of the children, Louis, 15; George, 13, and his twin, Jo Ann, and Sylvia, 12, are musicians, too. The Sayres live in a modest little home on Highland Avenue where "Daddy" maintains a studio. It was here that he gave them their music lessons.

"Daddy" has been a musician since he was a young man. He took up organ tuning to supplement his meager earnings which support the entire family.

The children have standing invitations to the Fox, Paramount and Roxy Theaters. Managers of each of these theaters know the youngsters by name and they know the whereabouts of "Daddy" when the children are guests in their theaters. The children see an average of four or five movies a week. They sometimes see the pictures through twice before "Daddy" has finished playing at the Scottish Rite Hall and calls for them.

They sometimes gather in theater lobbies to complete their lessons and they head homeward each night together.

In their excursions about the city thousands have stopped them and asked their names. They've noticed the kind-faced "Daddy" and they've wondered just what was his role in this unique little group.

They've seen him with his arms affectionately placed around the two girls as they made their way home on the trolley. They have watched him tell them stories of his musical career and they have seen him listen "all ears" as the children told him about the movie.

They've seen the Sayres ar in arm walking briskly down Peachtree Street and they've observed their restaurant ritual and the excellent table manners of the children.

They've seen all of this for years. And they've wondered, too, just who the Sayres were. They didn't sense the heartaches and joys which have propelled "Daddy" and his four children through years of strife and happiness. Domestic difficulties years ago left him in charge of the children. "Daddy" Sayre doesn't talk about this aspect. He looks only at the bright side.

"Our greatest blessing is good health," the shepherd said. "Periodic checkups with our doctor and dentist together with good food and systematic exercise in swimming and 'Y' workouts combined with varied household duties contribute to this."

"Daddy" Sayre's secret is this: "You must love children, especially your own, if there is to be team-work or success in their rearing. Like most families in the making, we have our days of sunshine and shadows."

The children are featured in music programs in churches, civic clubs and in radio.

They truly are one of Atlanta's most unique families.

Univis Strike Ended

Lens Company Walkout Ends as Ohio Governor Forces Agreement

DAYTON, Ohio, Aug. 1—(AP)—Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, of Ohio, forged an agreement today ending the strife-torn 88-day-old Univis Lens Company strike.

The Company and Union agreed that within the next two or three days all workers could return without discrimination except for 11 strikers the Company accused of "flagrant violations" of the law.

Their cases are to be arbitrated through the American Arbitration Association and, meanwhile, the Company will pay them at their regular rates plus an 11-cent increase granted to all workers for no more than 30 days pending a decision.

The agreement came in an unprecedented four-hour meeting between Herbert and heads of the striking United Electrical Workers (CIO), Company officials and officers of a newly organized Univis Employees Independent Union.

Herbert won a pledge from the UE of no further mass demonstrations at the plant.

Bowles Flays 'Dismal' GOP Price Record

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1—(UP) Republican leaders of the so-called do-nothing Congress still were shooting today for Aug. 7 adjournment, with flat repudiation of President Truman's anti-inflation program almost certain.

Meanwhile, Chester Bowles termed the Republican record on prices "a dismal one."

"If the law-makers don't quit by Saturday, they say adjournment will come for sure a wek later, on Aug. 14.

The House headed into the new week still with no business pending. It spent most of last week in recess, while a few committees held hearings, one of them on Mr. Truman's requests.

The Senate Banking Committee is scheduled to hear tomorrow from former OPA Chief Paul Porter. The House Committee has as its chief witness Chairman Thomas B. McCabe, of the Federal Reserve Board. oBth have testified previously.

Bowles, another former OPA boss, jumped on the GOP Congress for its failure to do anything about "50-cent hamburgers, 90-cent butter, 23-cent milk, 80-cent eggs and reckless increases in the price of steel and a hundred other commodities."

He said in a statement that the Republican leaders could stop inflation 'in its tracks" if they would accept Mr. Truman's proposals.

Still another appeal for Congress to "stop playing politics" and pass "adequate" inflation control bills was issued by Pres. Joseph A. Beirne, of the Communication Workers of America, representing 230,000 telephone workers.

He said his Union is ready to accept wage controls "if necessary," and is not afraid that an anti-inflation program will bring on a "police state."

SOME SO-AND-SO SWUNG A CHAIN

Battle Royal Ends Homecoming Carnival

MT. OLIVE, Ill., Aug. 1—(AP)—This mining town's three-day homecoming celebration had a bang-up wind-up early today. As Mayor August Schoppman summarized it: "Someone shouted 'Hey, Rube!' and the fun was on."

When the dust settled on Main Street, nine townspeople sported cuts and bruises, and eight carnival employees were on their way to the macoupin County jail in nearby Carlinville.

Schoppman said the fracas at the carnival followed an altercation between a Mt. Olive youth and a carnival concessionaire, but it wasn't too clear what happened.

The town's three-man police force went into action, and a call brought Sheriff Charles A. Scheller and several deputies from Carlinville, about 15 miles away.

"It wasn't a riot," the Sheriff said. "It was just a nice old-fashioned fight — a free-for-all. The only thing that spoiled it was that somebody got tough and swung a chain. We're trying to find out who that so-and-so was. It was the chain that did most of the damage."

All of the injured were released after first aid treatment in St. Francis Hospital at Litchfield.

Booked on disorderly conduct charges were eight employees of United Exposition Shows, a traveling carnival.

The sheriff said those arrested gave their names as Gene Burleson, 18; Verle Murphy, 33; Jack Colby, 55; Virgil Moore, 26; Gerald A. Haley, 44; Harry Brofsky, 53; Charles E. Wendt, 50, and L. H. Ensurles, 50.

The carnival was a feature of the home-coming, an annual event in this community of 3,000, sponsored by the Mt. Olive Posts of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Sheriff Scheller said prosecution of the carnival members will be up to State's Attorney John P. Madden.

TAVERN ACCIDENT

Wild Shot Kills Wife Of Officer

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 1—(AP)—The young wife of a Portland policeman died today of a bullet fired accidentally while her husband tried to stop a tavern fight.

Det. Sgt. John Warren reported the woman, June Buzzell, 22, was struck in the forehead. The gun discharged as Officer Ross Buzzell was grabbed from behind during the Sunday morning fight.

The detective said Officer Buzzell was on vacation and in the tavern with his wife and mother-in-law. He was wearing his service revolver as required by city police regulations.

Sgt. Warren said the shooting followed attempts of Buzzell to stop a brawl involving four men. The officer and one of his assailants tumbled through a plate-glass window of the tavern a moment after the shooting. Two men are held in jail and two others who fled from the suburban tavern are sought.

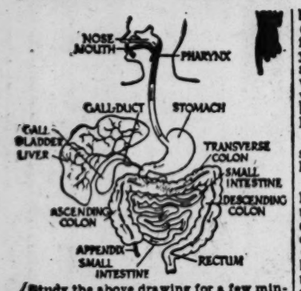
TAKE A LOOK AT YOUR INSIDES



Study the above drawing for a few minutes. Notice particularly how the bile flows from the liver into and out of the gall-bladder and thence into the small intestine where it mixes with the partly digested food just below the stomach. Bile is a necessary adjunct to proper digestion. Its absence from the intestines inevitably causes putrefaction and fermentation.

NATURE'S DANGER SIGNALS

When your stomach, liver, and gall bladder have been upset by improper eating or drinking, or when they are not working well because retained and putrefying food matter in your intestines is poisoning your entire body, you, sooner or later, begin to feel some of the following symptoms:

Your breath may become unpleasant (halitosis), your tongue coated, a bad taste in your mouth, your coffee (and tobacco) lose their natural flavor, your food does not agree with you; you may have heartburn, gas and dizzy spells, you may be troubled with belching; at night the gas in your bowels may press upon your bladder making you get up frequently, thus breaking into your sleep.

In the morning you are tired instead of refreshed. Gradually your health is impaired.

Your complexion may become sallow or bilious; dark rings may appear under your eyes, you may feel lazy, dull and irritable or blue and melancholic. You may have frequent colds (catarrh) or dull head-ache; your bowels stop their free, full and natural action; you have constipation, gas, putrefaction and self-poisoning ("intestinal toxaemia" or "acute gastritis" as many doctors call it).

HOW TO GET RELIEF

You can relieve this condition, usually overnight, by taking Calotabs at bedtime and drinking water freely next day.

The beneficial effects of Calotabs lie in the fact that they are (1) laxative, (2) antiseptic to the intestines, (3) diuretic to the kidneys, (4) effective in relieving symptoms of biliousness and acute gastritis due to constipation or faulty digestion.

Calotabs are pleasant to take (sugar coated), prompt and effective. Try them and see. Follow label directions. At your druggists'.

FINEST SUMMER PROGRAM

Composer Jenkins' Narrative Hit of Fourth Pop Concert

By HOWELL JONES-

Atlanta concert goers filled the Fox Theater yesterday afternoon for the fourth program in the Pop Concert Series, got stardust in their eyes and left convinced they had seen and heard the best concert of the Summer.

And the turn-away crowd had a good argument to prove its point.

While no single artist in a star-studded cast of singers, players, narrators and musicians was a standout as an individual, the entire company combined to give the best balanced and appealing program of the entire series.

And, possibly the top star of the show wasn't even there. He was Composer Gordon Jenkins, whose musical narrative, "Manhattan Tower," was given by the whole cast as the grand finale. Loud cheers of "bravo" and wild applause greeted the work. It was a tremendous hit in its first Southern performance.

Written as a tone poem, with parts for soloists and chorus, the Jenkins score employed every musical medium plus narrative and sound effects to tell the story of New York. The reaction of the audience was proof of its success in doing just that.

Jane Wrigley, a pretty brunette with a warm contralto voice, sang the vocal solo. The Atlanta Youth Chorus, under the direction of C. W. Landiss, sang the choral passages. Fred Parsons narrated the score. Jack Almand provided sound effects. The orchestral background was given by the Atlanta Pops Orchestra, under the direction of Maestro Albert Coleman.

Best single performance of the afternoon was given by Pianist Claire Price. The young Brenau College graduate interpreted Claude Debussy's "Claire de Lune" with all the delicacy and tender understanding that it required. She encored with Chopin's "Revolutionary Etude."

Ed Mallory, tenor, also gave a good account of himself as soloist with the Youth Chorus in Sir Arthur Sullivan's stirring "The Lost Chord," although the Chorus, composed partially of feminine voices, did not have sufficient power and range to project the great score to best advantage.

However, in Adams' "The Holy City," the Chorus had a work made to order for its style of singing. The mixed group's voices blended well to give life and meaning to the beloved religious score. The Chorus was well received by the audience.

Maestro Coleman and his orchestra kept pace with the soloists in a group of well-known classical and popular selections. The program included "Dance of the Comedians," from "The Bartered Bride," by Smetana; "In the Still of the Night," by Porter; "Tango," by Coleman; "The Man I Love," by Gershwin, and Medley of Sigmund Romberg favorites.

ELECT AN EXPERIENCED CHAMPION OF BETTER SCHOOLS TO COMMISSION

J. ALLEN COUCH

Better schools and more of them will be one of the main goals of J. Allen Couch if elected to the Fulton County Commission. During his 25 years on City Council of Atlanta, J. Allen Couch has become widely known as a man who gets things done for schools. You are asked to check with the present and former officials of Atlanta's School System. In fact, J. Allen Couch's worthwhile work has been recognized in the naming of a grammar school in his honor.

J. Allen Couch stands for continuance of the county's expanding health and recreation programs; for abolition of the monthly garbage tax and its merger with other taxes; for a "watch the pennies" finance office at the court house, and for all-weather roads in the farming sections.

'BOY---WE HAD A BIG---'

Fulton's 'Play Evening' A Treat to 350 Youths

"Boy—we had a big evening!"

Pocket-sized Cowboy Paul Ellis, 6, of 198 Howell Dr., S. W., summed up Fulton County's second annual "Play Evening" that way—and he echoed the sentiments of 350 colorfully togged out youngstrs who swarmed North Fulton Park for the recent event.

There were cowboys and Indians, clowns and butterflies, villains and Little Nells in the Tiny Tot Circus which climaxed the Play Evening. Dad applauded from the audience and Mom hovered in the wings, fluffing up crepe paper costumes, during the "big show."

Earlier, the whole family enjoyed a swim and an old-fashioned dinner on the ground.

Sponsored by the Fulton County Recreation Department, the event brought boys and girls from supervised play areas in Adamsville, Ben Hill, Fairburn, College Park, and all over Fulton County.

Harold Parker, Department Director, and playground supervisors were in charge of arrangements.

FULFILLS PLEDGE

Chiang's Home Dedicated As Church

NANKING, Aug. 1—(AP)—China's restored presidential residence was dedicated as a Christian church today by Generalissimo and Madame Chiang Kai-shek, fulfilling a vow they made 11 years ago.

Located near the Sun Yat-Sen Mausoleum, the official residence fell into disrepair during the Japanese occupation. It now has been converted into the "Triumph" Christian Church. The Chiangs, both Christians, will continue to reside within the Defense Ministry compound.

Presiding at the dedication, Chiang said that in August, 1937, he and his wife stood at that spot and pledged to found a church there if China emerged victorious over the Japanese invaders.

The Rev. Luther Shao, Secretary-General of the Church of Christ in China, and the Rev. Yu Wei-Ning, Pastor of the Shanghai Methodist Church, preached sermons and gave communion. (Denomination of the church was not mentioned. Although the Chiangs are Methodists, identity of the ministers implied that the church might be nondenominational).

Case of Typhoid

Gas Nearly Burst Ribs

"My stomach bloated up so bad with gas I thought my ribs would burst," said a lady recently. "My whole abdomen was horribly sore from gas pressure. Now INNER-AID has relieved me. The gas pressure is GONE. This medicine certainly does everything claimed for it."

INNER-AID is the new, scientific formula containing 12 of Nature's Herbs. So it is like several medicines in one; it accomplishes several things at the same time; that is, it acts on bowels as a laxative and helps cleanse out old, foul substances that often cause headaches, dizzy spells, and worn-out feeling. It brings forth gas and bloat from stomach and relieves gas pains and swelling. Miserable people daily write us they get such a cleansing and invigorating from INNER-AID they soon feel like different men and women. So get INNER-AID. Sold at all drug stores.

'HATE COMMUNISM'

Woo People Of Russia, Exile Urges

NEW YORK, Aug. 1—(UP)—Alexander Kerensky, former Prime Minister of Russia, said today that if the United States told the Russian people how it felt about them, Stalin could never mobilize them for war.

Kerensky said nearly 20,000,000 peasant families long for release from Communist regimentation in Russia, and some 12,000,000 Russian slave laborers hate the Communists.

Writing in the August issue of the American Magazine, Kerensky said "there is hardly a family in Russia which doesn't hope passionately for revenge for a monstrous wrong perpetrated by the Communists."

Yet, he said, the U. S. "get tough" policy of the Kremlin did not draw a distinction between the Russian Government and its people.

"If the United States would alter its tactics and act boldly and untiringly to drive a wedge between the Communist Government and the Russian people, America would end for all time, I believe, the Communist aggression that threatens to produce another war," the Russian exile said.

Thurmond Escapes Injury in Car Crash

NAVY TO LAUNCH RECRUITING DRIVE FOR WAVES IN REGULAR RANKS SEPT. 15

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 1—(AP)—Capt. Joy B. Hancock, National Director of the WAVES, says that a recruiting campaign for lady sailors will be launched Sept. 15.

Capt. Hancock spoke yesterday at ceremonies honoring the sixth anniversary of the WAVES.

Enlistments, said Capt. Hancock, will be open to high school graduates with the minimum age set at 20. Recruits will be assigned to the Great Lakes Training Station.

AT FARMERS' MARKET

South Carolina Peaches Top Georgia's in Price

That old argument about which is the "Peach State"—Georgia or South Carolina—again is under way at the State Farmers' Market here.

It all springs from the fact that this year South Carolina's peaches are selling for higher prices than Georgia's famed product brought.

South Carolina peaches, now on the Farmers' Market, are selling for from $2.75 to $4 a bushel. Georgia peaches, which came through the market some days ago, sold for from $1.50 to $2.50 a bushel.

The managers of the Farmers' Market explain the difference by recalling that the late freeze this last Spring hurt the Georgia peach crop more than it did the crop in South Carolina.

"Because of that situation," one of them said, "the South Carolina peaches are larger than were the peaches from Georgia. And that accounts for the difference in price."

South Carolina peaches now on the market are of the Hale variety. The Hale peach is normally larger than the Elberta.

The peach season in South Carolina is nearly at an end. But the Farmers' Market expects to receive shipments from States further north. Kentucky yesterday sent in a load of Elbertas. They are selling for $4 a bushel.

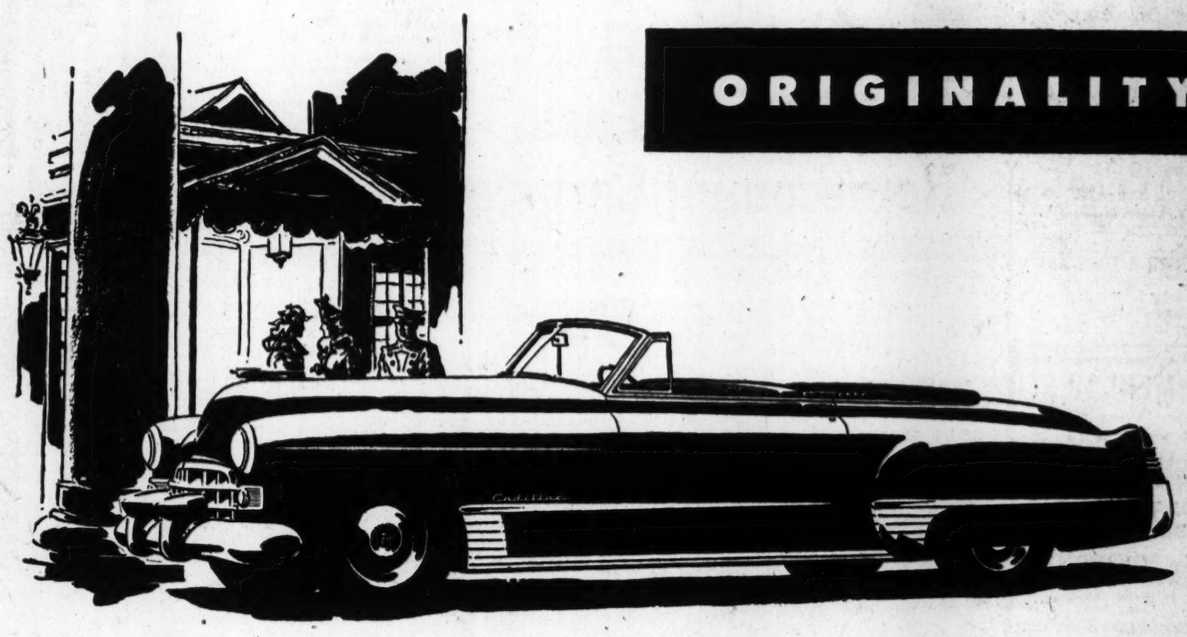
Cadillac

ORIGINALITY



Originality is a basic Cadillac word. For Cadillac is always the pioneer—striving constantly to endow its cars with a greater measure of all that is good and desirable in an automobile.

But the new Cadillac cars now gracing the streets and highways have reached a degree of originality that is unusual even for Cadillac. You notice this first in their smart and distinctive appearance. And you notice it again when you take the wheel—for here is performance so incomparable that there is literally nothing with which to compare it.

The public reaction is what you would logically expect. Orders for new Cadillac cars are breaking all records in Cadillac's long and impressive history of public acceptance.

TWO-THIRDS OF UNIT AWOL

MPs Round Up Tardy Guardsmen

OAKLAND, Md., Aug. 1—(AP)—Nearly two-thirds of a National Guard unit here was rounded up today by Guard Military Police for failing to report for a two-week encampment which began at Camp Ritchie, Md., yesterday.

A Guard spokesman said they were being sent to Camp Ritchie, where they will be given a hearing tomorrow.

Brig. Gen. William C. Purnell, Assistant Commandant of the Twenty-ninth Division at Camp Ritchie, said those upon whom attendance at the camp would offer a hardship would be sent back and "probably discharged from the National Guard."

"Others not so affected will be required to perform their duties here," he said.

The Guardsmen were sent for when only about 12 of the 40 members of the Oakland unit showed up for the training period.

Gen. Purnell said the military police were instructed to "locate the absentees, advise them of their obligation to attend this camp and to arrest those who resisted."

First Lt. Stewart F. Hammill, Jr., Commander of the Oakland company, said he had received no orders concerning 100 percent representation of the unit in camp.

He said the understanding had been that attendance would be "strictly volunteer."

He said he had ordered Hammill to "either appear and face the proper consequences of his apparent dereliction of duty or to resign.

"We are informed that Lt. Hammill has chosen to resign . . ." the General added.

The Bear Facts! 'Ole Gene' Lost

WAYCROSS, Aug. 1—Officials at Okefenokee Swamp Park reported today that a young bear was seen on the highway in the vicinity of the park.

It is believed the bear seen was the park's pet bruin, Gene, named after Gene Talmadge. The bear disappeared from the Wildlife Exhibit several weeks ago.

Volume Heavy In Leaf Sales 1st Full Week

VALDOSTA, Aug. 1—(AP)—During the first full week of sales on Georgia-Florida flue cured tobacco market an extremely heavy volume of 44,595,159 pounds was auctioned for an average $51.50 per 100. Sales were considerably heavier than expected.

The general average was only 99 cents less than established for the opening two days of sales, but $6.78 higher than for the first full week last season.

The United States Department of Agriculture reported the majority of grades offered were steady to $5 higher as compared with the opening sales. All good quality grades continued in strong demand. Some losses were recorded but these were centered mostly on medium to common quality offerings. These grades declined as much as $5 per 100, but were more than offset by the gains.

Through Friday season gross sales were brought to 61,250,145 pounds at an average $51.78. Season sales to date as compared with the estimated production of 106,221,000 pounds, with a reasonable allowance considered as resale tobacco indicates that the crop is about half marketed. No sales are held on Saturdays.

Low to good leaf grades, better quality lugs, and all cutters were eagerly sought by domestic buyers. Most of the advances in prices were for these offerings.

Russell Hits Truman on Army Edict

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1—(INS) Sen. Russell, Democrat, Georgia, declared today President Truman's orders to end segregation in the Army was "unconditional surrender to the Wallace Convention. . . ."

Russell, who secured 263 votes for the Democratic Presidential nomination, declared the President's executive orders to ban segregation resulted from "minority pressure."

The Southern Senator declared in a radio broadcast he had heard "underground whispers" demanding that Gen. Omar Bradley, Chief of Staff, be "broken" for indorsing segregation, Russell asserted:

"Certain organizations . . . are reported to be demanding action against our Chief of Staff.

"All I have to say is, if Bradley is kicked out for stating the Army's policy, in my opinion there will be a hard time getting the Senate to confirm his successor."

Regarding the President's executive orders, the Senator said:

"That was unconditional surrender to the Wallace Convention and to the treasonable civil-disobedience campaign organized by the Negroes A. Philips Randolph and Grant Reynolds.

"The President has held all the powers of his office for more than three years, but did not see fit to issue these orders until the Progressive—the Wallace — Convention made it clear a majority of the Negro vote on which he had relied had been captured by Henry Wallace and his radicals."

In Congress this week a test of strength should determine whether the antipoll-tax bill or any other civil rights legislation can clear the Senate this session.

Meanwhile, Southern Democrats are considering a little reorganization of their own in the House when the new Congress convenes next January.

The victims of the projected party "purge" may be Democrats from north of the Mason and Dixon Line—the so-called Truman and New Deal wing of the party.

Up in arms over the Truman Democrats, advocacy of civil-rights legislation the Dixiecrats believe next January will afford an excellent opportunity to reorganize for party control.

Meanwhile, at Austin, States' Rights Democrats and party members loyal to the National Democratic ticket counted delegates for a finish fight over control of Texas 23 presidential electors.

The delegates were named in Saturday's turbulent county conventions which saw rival slates set up in Harris (Houston), Dallas (Dallas), and Tarrant (Fort Worth), three counties with heavy voting strength in the state convention. The convention meets in Fort Worth Sept. 14.

States' Righters are trying to seize the electors for the ticket of J. Strom Thurmond and Fielding Wright.

Clark's Hill Will Flood 150 Prehistoric Sites

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1—(AP)—Location of 150 prehistoric habitation sites in the Georgia and South Carolina areas to be flooded by the Clark's Hill Reservoir has been reported by Smithsonian Institution archaeologists.

The institution said today the sites, mostly prehistoric, are along the Savannah River and its tributaries in Eastern Georgia and Southwestern South Carolina.

When the reservoir is completed an area 37 miles long on the Savannah, Little and Broad Rivers in Georgia and Little River in South Carolina will become a tremendous lake with a shoreline of 1,000 miles.

The Smithsonian said any archeological sites in the flooded section will be permanently destroyed. For this reason, the Institution said, a survey was carried out cooperatively by Smithsonian, the National Park Service and Army Engineers to mark the sites for excavation before they are flooded.

It is known that the inhabitants who immediately preceded the white men in the section were Creek Indians. Before them, the Smithsonian said, there apparently was a long procession of relatively unknown peoples. Among the sites located were the remains of a mound group.

Among sites tested were two containing fragments of a fiber-tempered pottery which apparently represents the earliest stage of the ceramic industry among Southeastern Indians.

Indiana Reassesses Its Real Estate

The progressive State of Indiana has undertaken a reform long indicated in Georgia.

Under an act of the 1947 Legislature, all real estate and improvements within the State are being reassessed for tax purposes. The idea is not to raise additional revenue, although authorities estimate at least $500,000,000 worth of property is now unlisted and thus escaping taxes, but rather to eliminate gross inequalities of assessment, such as now exist in Georgia.

Under Indiana law, all property theoretically is assessed at one hundred percent of value. But since assessments have been made in depressions on some property and inflated times on other, a wide disparity is apparent.

In Georgia, where 159 different counties adopt their own yardsticks, the rate of assessment openly varies from as low as thirty to as high as a hundred percent. And there are many inequities within the individual counties. Thus it is that, in one Georgia county for example, a bungalow is assessed at sixty percent of its value while a ten million dollar plant pays taxes on an evaluation of only one million—or ten percent—of its worth.

Indiana's reassessment program grew out of the recommendations of a Tax Study Commission, composed of leaders representing nearly every important group or interest in the State. Such a commission, we are proud to say, is presently at work in Georgia.

Acting upon the Commission's recommendation, the State Legislature ordered the State Board of Tax Commissioners to make the reassessments, with county and township assessors doing the work on the basis of rules outlined by the State Board. In this connection, the State Board is holding classes for the assessors from Indiana's 92 counties and thousand-odd townships.

Obviously, it will be impossible for Indiana to adopt and apply a perfect formula. But, in approaching the problem thus intelligently, Indiana will at least eliminate the gross inequities and insure that the tax burden, insofar as assessed valuation of real property is concerned, is more fairly divided among the State's citizenry.

We do not know whether the Tax Commission currently making a study of the Georgia revenue-raising problem has considered the need for an overall revision of assessed valuation in this State.

If not, we recommend that its members go en masse to Indiana, there to study the job which that State is undertaking.

In Restraint of Trade?

Atty. Gen. Tom Clark has announced that the field service of the Department of Justice will be materially expanded as part of a drive against conspiracies to maintain or raise the prices of food, clothing and housing.

To implement this drive, as the bureaucrats would say, he plans to open new field offices in Jacksonville, Philadelphia and Kansas City and enlarge the staffs in other offices over the country.

"Continuing high prices and the growth of private economic power compel an anti-trust survey throughout the country," declared the dapper Texan.

The public will applaud action leading to a genuine curb of any tendencies toward monopoly. It is not, however, prepared to lend credence to vague charges of malpractice such as Mr. Clark is in the habit of uttering each election year.

If Atty. Gen. Clark and the Department of Justice are so intensely interested in breaking up monopoly and lowering prices, why not an investigation of the effects of Federal and State so-called fair trade laws? No doubt the public would be amazed to know the difference in the costs of certain goods on the free market in four States, and the prices paid for the same items in the 44 States which have enabling statutes under the misnamed Federal Fair Trade Act.

Do We Need Credit Controls?

Of Mr. Truman's eight-point plan for curbing inflation, only one was given support by the majority of reputable economists. That was the one which called for restoration of controls on consumer credit buying.

The Republicans insist, and not without some justification, that the President has ample authority to reimpose credit controls without any action by Congress. When Regulation W, dealing with installment credit controls, was repealed, a proviso was inserted in the repealer stating that these controls could be re-established in any national emergency declared by the President.

The Republicans now insist that if the emergency be sufficient to warrant a special session of Congress, then it palpably is sufficient also for the President to exercise his own emergency powers to deal with the situation. The Administration, on the other hand, contends that despite the proviso in the repeal law, it does not have the power to invoke credit controls again.

This little tug-o'-war perhaps best illustrates the political anxiety of both parties regarding the special session. Mr. Truman obviously wants to lay the blame for any and all inflation upon the Republicans, who in turn are just as eager to toss the onus back to the President. In such a supercharged atmosphere it is extremely doubtful that the Congress will be able to accomplish anything of value.

JOSEPH AND STEWART ALSOP

The Communist Party and the CIO

WASHINGTON—Before the end of the year, and perhaps much sooner, an event of far more lasting significance than the present scuffle between the President and the Congress is likely to take place. For those in a position to know expect the whole pattern of the American labor movement soon to be radically altered by the splitting-off of the CIO's Communist-dominated unions from the CIO.

Ever since Henry A. Wallace announced his candidacy, and the CIO's Stalinist chiefs defied the CIO's leadership to support Wallace, there has been no semblance of real unity in the CIO. What little facade of unity still exists will be finally cracked by an action which non-Communist CIO leaders will in all probability shortly take.

For the first time in months, CIO President Philip Murray last week visited President Harry Truman in the White House. Murray urged Truman to eliminate all reference to wage controls in his message to the special session. Although Truman refused Murray's request, he did so as politely as possible, and the two men parted on reasonably amiable terms. Accordingly, the CIO is expected within a few weeks to announce support for Truman.

This action, which will divide the CIO into a large pro-Truman non-Communist faction and a minority pro-Wallace Communist faction, will merely formalize the bitter division which already exists. As soon as Murray announced his support for the Marshall Plan and his opposition to Wallace, he at once ceased to be "our great leader" in the pages of "The Daily Worker." He became instead the chief betrayer of the working class, and all Communist appeals for "unity" abruptly ceased. The Communist-led unions began at once to fight Murray's non-Communist leadership. And Murray, now fighting mad, has been fighting back, smiting the Communists hip and thigh.

Everywhere, the Communists in the CIO have been taking a painful beating. With Murray's blessing, and the not-too-gentle encouragement of the non-Communist union leaders, the rank and file have been deserting the Communists in droves.

The Electrical Workers, the biggest Communist-run union in the country, and the heart and soul of Communist influence in the labor movement, have also been busy fending off the attacks of the A. F. of L. Teamsters Union. The die casters in the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, one of the larger Stalinist unions, have split off to form an independent union. Joe Curran of the Maritime Workers and Mike Quill of the Transport Workers, the two most recent rebels against the party line, have now succeeded, after savage infighting, in purging their unions of Communists in key positons.

And so it goes. The Communist position in the CIO has not yet disintegrated but it is sorely threatened. The most recent evidence that the next step in the blood-and-thunder drama of the CIO's internal battle will be a withdrawal of the Communist-led unions is the reported statement on the West Coast of Donald Henderson. Henderson is the pro-Communist boss of the Tobacco and Agricultural Workers. According to reports received in CIO headquarters here, Henderson said a few days ago that he had no intention of repaying a large sum of money which his union owes the CIO. Henderson cannot make good this threat and stay in the CIO. His statement is taken by CIO leaders here to mean that he will lead a general exodus from the CIO of the minority of Communist-run unions.

If such an exodus takes place, it will not be essentially because of the beating the Communists have taken, or because of Henry Wallace. Rather, it will be one facet of world Communist strategy. And what makes a final split of the CIO seem all the more likely is the fact that it would fit neatly into the developing international Communist pattern. It would be the American equivalent of what has been happening in recent weeks in Europe.

'Youth Isn't Always Beautiful'

As I recall it, my first newspaper interview as a young and wide-eyed reporter, was a gentleman who had attempted suicide with a shot gun, and failed, by the narrowest of margins; my second was with Will Rogers, the cowboy humorist, and my third with Rebecca West, the British novelist.

She had come to Nashville, Tennessee, as one of a party on the private car of the late Otto Kahn to attend some sort of celebration at Peabody College. I was sent down to interview Mr. Kahn, there existing a fond hope he would whip out his checkbook and dash off a generous check for the college.

But, I was young and developing the vice of reading anything and everything, and one of Miss West's novels was then exciting me, so I talked as much as I could with Miss West and gave Mr. Kahn the routine going over.

She told me of how her father, after the Civil War, had got leave from the Canadian border patrol with which he had served during the war, and made a journey through the South. She had long wanted to visit some of that region. I still believe her to be one of the best writers of our time and also one of the best reporters. The two do not always go together.

A friend of mine has sent me a clipping of her report on the Wallace Convention's final evening—the appearance of Henry Wallace himself before the crowd at Philadelphia's Shibe park. I want to use some of it here. She began:

If— "If I were an American I should not worry whether Henry Wallace wrote the Guru letters, but I should be terribly worried because most of the people at the Wallace Convention looked as if they might have written them.

"This Convention, and particularly the rally at Shibe Park which ended it, was as unappetizing an assembly as I have ever seen in America, and I feel no compunction at making that statement, because I will own I have never seen its like in Europe.

"Attempts were made to sentimentalize the character of the Convention by pointing out that it consisted largely of young people.

"Why do we pretend that youth is always a beautiful thing?

"There are lots of horrible young people, just as there are lots of horrible middle-aged people and lots of horrible old people.

"At the Wallace Convention there were quite a number of young people who were very horrible indeed. There were the ones who were embryo Babbitts, having their fling before they settled down to safe and narrow lives, stupid young people, too stupid to understand how the world is run and that the present system, for all its faults, took a great deal of patient and intelligent effort, and who, therefore, wrote off the whole of the past with a sneer; and who are so smug that they saw their own sneering as idealism.

"There were others who wore on their faces the signs of a more serious maladjustment. I never saw so many girls with the restless look on their faces that comes of profound insecurity, of consciousness that neither their physical and mental resources were adequate and that they must create a personality somehow, by revolt if nothing else turned up.

"I never saw so many boys with the sullen eyes and the dropped chins which mean a brain just good enough to grasp the complexities of life and to realize that it would never be able to master them."

Writing That, I think, is very, very good writing, and good thinking. One of our troubles today is that so many of us think in terms of catchwords and phrases. For some, life becomes a sort of soap opera; time stands still; life is immutable. Old men and women stubbornly continue to interpret life in terms of the forces and the events of their youth. They keep on applying the formulas of their youth to the problems of their old age, as a child continually tries to put a piece of a puzzle into a space it will not fit. Young men and women feel cheated in a game they have never tried to play.

Communists Writing of the obvious control of the Convention by the few Communists in the Wallace movement, she concluded:

"But, I do not believe that they (the Communists) want Henry Wallace in the White House at all. I think they know that if they succeeded in engineering the election of a President so far below the standard of other Americans in public life they would discredit themselves and cause an acute reaction. They merely use his candidacy to collect the disaffected into a negotiable group.

"But I do not believe that the Communists will be able to realize their ambitions, and this is where the quality of Henry Wallace followers comes in. Communism is an exhaustive and exhausting discipline. The rank and file of the new Wallace party, the woolywitted elders and the sad boys and girls, could not take this discipline.

"There was a very significant proof of that at the rally. Mr. Wallace is a bad speaker. He has a large and spongy voice that hangs in a mass in the air without attempting to make brisk progress to the ear. His own followers could not make the effort which was necessary if they were to follow their leader's speech. They could not even control themselves even to the extent of sitting still in thir seats or on the grass and pretending to listen. They had to get up and walk about. They had to leave the hall. They began this exodus after Mr. Wallace had been speaking for a quarter of an hour and by the time he had finished speaking about a fifth to a fourth of his audience had disappeared. It was not that they had to catch trains, transport had been provided. It was just that they were soft people. But the Communists do not know how to handle soft people, and will not be able to retain them.

"What happens to them, to those woolly wits and those sad boys and girls who have known the excitement of mass demonstrations, but have fallen out with the too strict organization which arranged those demonstrations for them?

"Well, it could be that the same thing will happen to them that happened to the poor quality masses which the Communists organized in Germany and which could not meet the heavy, demands made on them by their organsen. They just follow new leaders who offered them the same opportunity for mass demonstrations on easy terms, and so the vileness of Naziism was engendered.

"I must own that Mr. Wallace's followers, with their low standard of intelligence and their determination to take their fun politically, seemed horribly likely to turn into the foundations of an American Fascist movement."

When the World Seems To Be Waiting

Lying on the settee on the front porch. Resting as much as possible, according to doctors' orders. Reading a little. Contemplating the peaceful street.

The hot sun shines directly on the grass and the trees and the little houses. There is a stillness.

Occasionally the voice of a child at play. The sound, dulled by distance, of the hammers of the workers on the apartment houses under construction a short distance away. Now and then the sharp whine of an electric saw.

The noise, now and then, of a passing airplane. Glimpsed moving across the open sky, in the small area unobstructed by the trees. Automobiles and some trucks rolling past the house. More traffic on the street since some other thoroughfares have been temporarily blocked while the city installs new and larger water mains.

But, dominating the scene, the impressive stillness.

The air is still, without the smallest breeze to stir the trees which surround. Watch for long minutes, without seeing a leaf of the myriads move. They are as motionless as leaves painted upon canvas. There is what seems to be unusual heat, although it has been hot, I know, in other Summers. But for weeks now it has been excessively warm. Day after day, with scarcely a shower or a break in the high temperatures.

There is a sensation of waiting. The quietude, the motionless trees, the blue sky without clouds, the absence of any wind. You feel as though all the world is waiting, in silent patience, for something remarkable that is going to happen. You wonder what is to come.

Explosive Quality There is a sense of an explosive quality to the waiting.

You read the daily papers. You read of strains between nations. Of diplomatic deadlocks across the world. You listen to the radio and you hear the evidences of political conflicts in our own land. You hear the speeches that reflect the heat of sectional animosities, of resentments and of clashes in our own ideologies.

There are stories in the papers of strange antics by individuals. Of bizarre crimes and fantastic quarrels. You think that mankind is showing scattered evidence of some peculiar disease. Perhaps a sickness of the mind. Perhaps of the spirit.

You recall the discovery of the atomic bomb. You remember Nagasaki and Hiroshimo. And you shudder, a little, as you wonder. Is mankind going to commit suicide of the race now that mankind has the means? You wonder what sort of creature will, if mankind passes, inherit the mantle of intelligence that has differentiated this crazy little biped from all other living creatures.

Waiting . . . And again comes the sensation that nature itself is waiting—silent, patient, tense—for something tremendous, something explosive, which stands in the wings of the universe, alert for the cue which will, soon now, call it upon the world stage.

All the same, there is no breeze. The air shimmers in the heat of the sun and everything seems to be waiting for some tremendous event, yet unguessed.

He'd Rather Be Hirsute Than . . .

A Mobile citizen has written Gov. Dewey that, if he will cut off his moustache, he will "carry the South."

What was the name of the Confederate marching song . . . "Come Out of the Wilderness?"

Personally, I don't think much of the gentleman's advice. I've heard of candidates losing by a hair, but never by a moustache.

Still, it would be something if, after years of seeking the victory formula, Dewey would find it right under his nose.

Admittedly, the Dewey moustache puts the Republicans at a disadvantage. They can brag that their candidate has clean hands . . . but they can't say as much for his upper lip.

Still, I doubt that shaving off his moustache would help Dewey in the South. In fact, if Truman can't elect him there, nobody can.

Incidentally, the White House is full of antiques, including Washington's bed, Lincoln's desk and Jackson's snuffbox. You reckon they can locate William Howard Taft's moustache cup?

THE PULSE OF THE PUBLIC

The Constitution welcomes letters on either side of any subject. They should not exceed 200 words and must be signed, although names will be withheld on request. We regret none can be returned. Address all letters to Editor Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

Civil Rights

Editor Constitution: I was born in Bibb County. I have been in Georgia 36 of my 43 years. I have studied closely the civil rights program of President Truman. He advocates equality of opportunity in voting, education, health, housing, recreation, jobs and religion. At present, in the South such does not obtain among whites. It is worse among Negroes.

The Constitution of the United States, democracy, the Bible, Christianity and God support the civil rights position. Objecting may delay but time and justice will bring these rights into their own.

It would be better by far, since Democrats are so strong in the South, for Democrats to institute and accept the reform where the defect is more acute. Republican reformation from afar, though good, could be greatly improved by Democratic redemption here. This is the time for us to apply to our situation, "Let us in the South settle our problem."

Civil rights are here to stay. They were born in Europe amid the labor pains of tyranny and cruelty. They crossed the Atlantic on the Mayflower. They were created by Washington, substantiated by Jefferson, approved and improved by Lincoln. Any revolt against them is a revolt against America's foundation, the moral order of the universe, and God.

WHY?

Editor Constitution: The unwritten social contact which for 80 odd years has preserved certain inequalities in the agrarian South is based on the idea that a great civilization is entitled to die gradually if in the meantime it submits to economic exploitation.

Evidently the industrial East will now abrogate this working arrangement by enforcing the 14th (Civil Rights) Amendment to the United States Constitution.

Why did the East wait so long to enforce the Constitution in the alleged interest of human dignity and liberty? Was it because the South's needed resources have been exhausted by the spoilers and now, industrialized, has become the competitor of Eastern capital and labor? Or is it because ever-increasing Federal income taxes have made sectional economic imperialism unprofitable?

Hartsfield Defender

Editor Constitution: Referring to the letter by Mr. H. F. Newman, Jr., praising Councilman Allen and suggesting that he run against Mayor Hartsfield.

Since Mr. Newman's name is not in the Directory I am unable to address him direct.

May I suggest to him, through the medium of the press, that one reason why so many people support Mayor Hartsfield is the fact that he is always opposed by people like the Councilman in question.

Truly a man is known by the company he keeps. As long as Mayor Hartsfield is opposed by the gamblers and petty racketeers he need not fear.

Mayor Hartsfield has given us good government, a fine credit rating, a great airport and Hurt Park. All the Councilman has given Atlanta is a bad name.

MRS. LUCILE ADDEY.

For Allen

Editor Constitution: My compliments to Mr. H. F. Newman, Jr. I think he is absolutely right in stating that it is no harm to play a friendly game of cards.

Maybe Mayor Hartsfield is afraid of losing the election. (Who knows better than Mr. Hartsfield.)

Allen has every right to refuse to withdraw from office without some fight and a little explaining.

People should realize by now that accidents happen everywhere, not just at friendly card games.

Helping Talmadge

Editor Constitution: Ellis Arnall and Ed Rivers, two of Gov. Thompson's "stooges," are making more votes for Herman Talmadge than they are for Thompson. Why? Because of their attack on Herman since he has been laid up in the hospital.

While Herman is down and can't help himself they—Ellis, Ed and also Governor Thompson are trying to keep him down.

Write in McGill

Editor Constitution: Since the whole crop of gubernatorial candidates is admittedly rather "anemic" by most people, what say we lukewarm ones get together and "write in" a candidate who suits us—one who might really DO some of the things these fellows we hear raving about what they are (not) going to do "when you elect me Governor?" Remember, a candidate WAS "written in" not so long ago and it could be done again and worthily this time, since the situation seems to need it so badly.

I nominate Ralph McGill. His qualifications are all that anyone could ask, if they were really honest about it. We could even spare him the unpleasantness of getting all "muddied up" as the slinging gets thicker and dirtier as the race progresses. No telling where they'll stop before it's over. Creepers! Will somebody please open a window, ALL the windows! We are suffocating with the putrid air we are having to breathe these depressing political days—we in Georgia in particular. Not much we could or can do about the Presidential situation, but it DOES seem we could have been spared of either Thompson or Talmadge. Quick doctor, a transfusion, or we die!

'Nauseous Southern Filibuster'

WASHINGTON—Once again we have the somewhat nauseous spectacle of a filibuster by a handful of Southern Senators to prevent action on a measure to lift one of the restrictions in the South on the right to vote, a basic right in our Democracy. In bringing forward the bill to repeal the poll tax as a prerequisite of voting for Federal officials, the Republican Senate leadership has selected the least controversial of the measures embraced in the Civil Rights Program they long have indorsed and which now also carries the specific indorsement of President Truman and the general but unmistakable indorsement by the 1948 Democratic platform.

Developments will show to what extent the Republican leadership is sincere in pushing this bill forward at the outset of the special session and to what extent it is a political maneuver to embarrass President Truman by revealing the split in his own Party and thus retaliation for his call for a special session. It is obvious that this issue could provide a convenient blockade against some of the other legislation that the President has asked of the Republican Congress and that the Southern wing of the Democratic Party could be charged with the blame.

The test of Republican sincerity will come in whether it makes a real effort, after a reasonable time of discussion for this much-discussed issue, to limit debate through cloture and get action. That requires a two-thirds vote.

Whatever Republican motives may be—and doubtless they are mixed, politics being what it is—the Southerners must bear the onus of tangling up Senate procedure by a corruption of the rights and privileges of a legislative minority and of whatever ill effects accrue to other pending legislation from their obstructive tactics.

With our Democracy on parade before the world today it is time to make at least this start affecting the fundamental right of a free ballot. This is not the only impediment on the ballot in the South, but it is one easily reached and removed. The need for abolition of the poll tax has been recognized among many Southerners for a long time. This is attested not only by the fact that in recent years four Southern States have abolished the poll tax, but also by the active campaigns against this and other discriminations. The success of this campaign by earnest Southerners is manifest in a general increase in voting by Negroes in the South since 1940, as is shown by an analysis by Luther P. Jackson, Professor of History at Virginia State College, made for the Southern Regional Council.

This activity has included the bringing of court cases which resulted in the Supreme Court's outlawry of the "white primary," another voting restriction, the subsequent campaigns against various subterfuges to maintain the "white primary," and campaigns against registration practices by which Negroes are kept from voting, which is now perhaps the most serious and effective form of disfranchisement.

The filibuster is stark evidence of one fact often commented upon here, which is the backwardness of many members of Congress from the South as contrasted with the forward look of many people in the South who are working for changes and who are misrepresented by leaders who stalk up and down the Senate chamber in their cheap and shoddy filibuster performance.

Georgia was the latest State to abolish the poll tax. Others which have done away with it in recent years are North Carolina, Florida and Louisiana. But there are still seven States where a citizen has to pay a tax for the principle of voting, itself un-American and un-democratic—Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia. In three of these States it is cumulative, two years in Mississippi, three in Virginia, and in Alabama for as many years as the citzen has failed to pay since he came of voting age. In those States, particularly, and to a degree in others, it is an effective deterrent to voting among many persons, both colored and white, of low incomes.

While this reform preferably should be achieved by the States, themselves, the difficulties in the States where the tax is still imposed are so great that it has become necessary for Congress to act in the field where it has authority, in election of Federal officials. This is important for democratic formulation of National policy.

All About Potatoes and Castor Oil

WASHINGTON—The subject today is castor oil and its effect upon the body politic. Do not blame 'em. Honest John Snyder, the Secretary of the Treasury, brought it up. He hurried to Capitol Hill in his $26 Summer suit, which would have cost him $16.50 before the war, to tell the Senators they'd better revive price controls and rationing tickets while there yet is time. The Republican gentlemen of the Banking Committee gave him a bad time of it.

Sen. C. Douglass Buck, of Delaware, said it was doggone odd he could suggest such a thing, when the Government itself was shoveling out millions supporting high prices for such things potatoes. How come? Honest John said that was something for the Secretary of Agriculture to answer.

This made Sen. Harry P. Cain, of Washington, sore. Nobody knew from nothing in the President's Cabinet, he said. Didn't they ever talk over the situation at the White House? Maybe, said the Senator, he'd better call up all the Cabinet officers at once to see if they could get together on what is wrong with the cost of living.

This caused the Secretary of Treasury to get red in the face. He said he wasn't in favor of price controls as such.

"Neither do I like castor oil," he added, as an afterthought.

"You mean it is unpalatable," remarked Sen. Charles W. Tobey, of New Hampshire, "but is it efficacious? That is the question before us today."

Honest John said castor oil undoubtedly was effective. Sen. Ralph E. Flanders, the Vermont tool manufacturer, went, harumpf.

"Does the Secretary of the Treasury believe," he roared, "that castor oil is good for chronic economic constipation?"

Our Secretary of Treasury made the error of smiling. Senator Flanders assured him he never was more serious. Wasn't castor oil an emergency remedy, useful only for relief of small boys who'd eaten too many green apples?

"Well," began Honest John. Bang, bang, bankety, bang, went Chairman Tobey's gavel.

"Gentlemen," he said. "I assure you that both of you are being old-fashioned. Castor oil is outmoded."

"You mean," enquired Senator Flanders, "That there is a better remedy?"

"Oh, yes," replied Senator Tobey. "It is that stuff advertised on the radio. What do you call it? Nature spelled backward, I believe."

The Secretary of the Treasury took a long drink of water and wished he hadn't said anything about castor oil. The gentlemen returned to potatoes.

"We're all American citizens," said Senator Tobey. "You're Secretary of the Treasury. And the nation's in a devil of a fix. And now you're trying to restrict bank credit and yet the Government is spending millions on potatoes and then selling them back to the people and making them pay twice."

Meekly and yet stubbornly, Snyder said the Secretary of Agriculture would have to talk about potatoes.

"And don't go blaming the farmer for the high cost of living," shouted Senator A. Willis Robertson, of Virginia. "He's worse off now than he was before. It isn't his fault if the Government made a mistake about potatoes."

"I didn't say that," moaned Secretary Snyder. The anguish in his voice was genuine. And in a couple more days the Honorable the Secretary of Agriculture, Charles F. Brannan, will get to explain about potatoes. And how the Government buys em for $1.65 a bushel and sells 'em for one cent to potato-flour makers, who sell 'em back to the Government in powdered form at prices yet to be established. I'll be there. I may be able to pick up a few bushels of potatoes, cheap.

Two-Headed Man for Sale--Cheap

If any freak show proprietor is looking for a two-headed man, I know where he can hire one cheap.

This believe-it-or-noddity has an interesting case history. When he was born on the East Side 48 years ago, he had only one head. But right after his twenty-first birthday he began to sprout another. Today he's a badly confused man—his two brains seldom agree on anything. As a result, he doesn't know whose corner he's in, what team he's rooting for, which cheering section he belongs to.

Let me give you a for-instance: He owns 10 shares of Standard Oil of New Jersey. Therefore, Head No. 1 wants the price of gasoline to go up. But he also owns a car. Ergo, Head No. 2 wants the price of gas to go down.

Consider his tax problem: This fellow fancies himself a liberal. He's in favor of more social security, more TVAs, socialized medicine, old age pensions and so on. This, of course, involves a high tax rate. Head No. 1 says it doesn't mind. Head No. 2 says it'll be darned if it's going to knock itself out working and have a tax collector wind up with the dough on March 15.

What are the political beliefs of this curio? Is he a Communist? Yes and no. Is he a Republican? No and yes. After talking the matter over with him, it's my hunch that he's a Communist - Republican. He thinks Wallace has some good economic notions, but he wants Dewey to carry them out.

The personal problems of this two-headed bozo are even more pathetic. When he was a youth he used to press his nose against Sulka's window on Fifth Avenue and dream of the day when he could afford a hand-painted cravat. Now that he has enough scratch to fill several drawers with them, his new head tells him that hand-painted cravats are corny and not in keeping with the dignity of his station.

At mealtimes the poor chap is in an even worse quandary. When he was a kid he could eat potatoes and butter all day long and still have a figure like an ironing board. At the time he was lucky to have mustard to put on his hot dog. Today, when he can buy the goodies he used to long for, he's got a built-in cantaloupe under his vest, and his wife warns him that the hot rolls he loves are crawling with calories. Head No. 1 tells him that everybody loves a fat man. Head No. 2 spouts insurance statistics about fat men dying young. Consequently he dines on Ry-Krisp and buttermilk and has a box of candy stashed away under the bed.

Consider his love-life. He's married to a pretty girl and likes to show her off. When they go to a party he wants her to knock everybody's eyes out. But his wife's idea of being well-dressed is to wear a hat that looks like a lopsided bird cage—price tag, $49. When he gets the bills at the end of the month, his two heads give him a bad time. Head No. 1 says it's silly to let her spend 49 fish for some twisted wire and a few tassels. Head No. 2 says, "Stop beefing, you cheapskate. Wives are a lot happier with $49 bird cages than they are with the ones that cost $3.95 in a bargain basement."

In addition to having to put up with two heads, of late this freak has been standing on one foot, wondering which way to jump. His awkward stance has been brought on by the war talk in the newspapers. Head No. 1 advises, "Relax, old boy, and live the good life. You've got a house, a missus to share it with, a television set and a few bob in the bank." But Head No. 2 says, "You're living on borrowed time, chum. Cash in your bonds and get drunk. Any day now, someone will drop an atom bomb. . . ."

Side-show entrepreneurs who are interested in the services of this two-headed citizen can address their inquiries to the Ziegfeld Theater, Sixth Avenue and 54th Street, New York 18, N. Y.

Tells Us How It Happened

(Cartersville Tribune-News)

Recent figures show that traffic deaths in this city and section have declined 530 percent.

That's a decided and impressive drop in fatalities in accidents.

It is a truly happy thing that such a decrease in the accidental killings of human beings occur.

Not only are insurance company executives delighted that such a deadline in automobile accidents occur, but all the rest of us are relieved and proud that more of us remain among the living.

This record shows that somebody, a lot of somebodies, in fact, have been more careful in driving. It shows also that a lot more of somebodies have taken more heed and caution in crossing streets and highways.

It is heartening that more people have taken thought for preserving and safeguarding human life, when wars and rumors of wars are alarming us on every hand.

Let us all determine in our souls that we will still further cut the crimson toll of fatal mishaps on the streets and highways. It can be done.

THE QUESTION: What do you make of the "fiery mass in the sky" seen at intervals during the past several days?

THE ANSWERS:

MRS. A. B. RITCHEY, 1644 Carroll Dr., N. W., housewife—We were talking about that this morning. Sounds like a puzzle to me. I can't imagine anything like that. Sounds like something from Buck Rogers, that's about what it sounds like. I know how rumors fly—sometimes when people hear about something, they look for it and see it. I haven't noticed anything myself. I haven't been star-gazing, though.

TOM L. COLLINS, Route 1, Riverdale, Ga., life insurance salesman—I didn't know one had been seen. Frankly, I don't believe there was anything to it. I don't know what made them see it, unless they had just come from a party. I hardly ever read anything but the sports page—I don't have time. I just don't see how something like that could be so, without somebody besides them seeing it. You don't guess they could have been dreaming, do you?

JIM PRUETT, Athens, Ga., college football player—No such ship could possibly be flying through the air without our Government knowing about it—not with radar. We're not asleep over here. The pilot must have been dozing sort of dreamily at that hour of the morning. I think the flying discs and all—people really don't see them—they just think they do. They take any object in the sky and make it into a rocket or a rocket ship. To me, a ship coming in one direction at 700 miles an hour and a plane going in the other direction at 180 miles an hour, it would sort of be hard to observe what they observed. But you know Chiles, that great pilot!

MRS. EVELYN PARKER, 751 Tumlin St., N. W., housewife—I just think it's probably some falling stars or something like that. I think people have imagination on a lot of things. Other people hear about someone else seeing these things so they start looking for them. If I saw it myself, I might have a different viewpoint. You can just continue hearing about something like that and soon imagine you see it.

MARGIE DE FORD, 2961 Hardman Ct., N. E., 8th grade student—They just sound sort of weird to me. They remind me of the discs that were flying around not so long ago. Someone's just trying to scare everybody. I heard people talking about it on the bus. These two ladies in front of me said they thought it was just a big joke. I haven't seen any myself—but from the way everybody's talking, it seems just like the flying discs.

J. L. WELCH, 1309 Lee St., S. W., rate clerk—I don't know. I expect they were getting over a hangover, don't you, seeing things? Not knowing definitely what they have seen, I'm trying to stay out of a discussion of what it is. I think many things that they see are planes of different type and shapes—whether they are planes are not, I'm not familiar enough with them to say. I hesitate to believe stories of things coming from another planet. I doubt that they'll ever visit this one.

J. B. COGGINS, 70 Hatcher Ave., S. W., produce clerk—I think it's a weather balloon, because when we lived in Alabama, we saw things like that at night, and my father told me that it was a weather balloon. That was about six years ago. . . . They looked just like they were described in the paper, the thing I saw was long and black and looked like it had windows on it.

Who Supports Truman's Plan?

If President Truman cannot convince his own official family that price controls and rationing are the answer to inflation, how can he expect to convince Congress?

The truth is, of course, he doesn't. But in desperation for a campaign issue, which he hoped would improve his meager chances for election, he broached a program he knew in advance would be rejected. His obvious strategy is to turn this refusal to his own political benefit. He will tell the voters that inflation could have been licked if the Republican Congress had only accepted his plan for dealing with it.

But as least two Administration higher-ups, including one member of the cabinet, already have told the Senate Banking and Currency Committee price controls and rationing will not solve the problem.

Sec. of the Treasury John W. Snyder flatly said, "I am not in favor of price controls."

HE DID NOT elaborate. He said price controls and castor oil were equally repugnant and should be used only in emergencies. And he joined the Senators in uproarious laughter at mention of the word.

Marriner S. Eccles, former chairman of the Federal Reserve Board and still a member of that body, went even further than Mr. Truman's program. He called it futile, contradictory and declared it did not make economic sense.

Mr. Eccles said the Truman proposals reminded him of "filling the bathtub with the stopper out" and "trying to put Humpty Dumpty together again."

Moreover, the Reserve Board member declared the long-range housing program favored by Mr. Truman was inflationary. That is the view of many economists.

SEC. SNYDER gave full support to the President's proposal to increase reserve requirements of member banks of the Federal Reserve System. Mr. Eccles, on the other hand, thinks the added requirements should apply to all banks, whether members or not.

There is very little argument over the desirability of consumer credit controls. The Republicans, however, insist that Mr. Truman has authority under the existing law to reimpose those controls upon his own proclamation of an emergency.

Price controls and rationing are the center of the mock controversey. And so far only one Administration witness, former OPA Administrator Paul Porter, has testified in their behalf. And Mr. Porter's testimony was so vague and lacking in detail that he left the Senators exasperated.

It is obvious that Mr. Truman does not expect to get—and probably doesn't even want—most of the controls he asked. Surely his program cannot be sound if his own high officials, and especially those acquainted with the technical side of the problem, refuse to support him.

Mr. Truman merely wants an issue and a sounding board for it. He thinks he has found the issue in inflation. And he is determined to use Congress as the sounding board.

When Critics Are Resented

For the better part of a century, Europeans who could speak English made a racket of lecturing Americans about their barbarian manners and customs.

Our people didn't object. They were hungry for culture, and they always filled the lecture halls and paid a good price to hear themselves scolded and ridiculed.

One lady wrote a book of criticism that was too much. It became a best seller, but made her the most hated person of her generation. She described America during the period when a lady couldn't walk the length of a railway coach without having her skirt sprinkled with surplus tobacco juice which careless gentlemen splattered in the general direction of the aisle.

CRITICIZING Americans hasn't yet gone out of fashion. Recently an organization of ladies, meeting in Washington, invited Lady Astor to address them at a luncheon. Lady Astor obliged, but some of the ladies got their fill quickly and walked out. The address was a little too catty in its criticism of our people.

Collier's magazine, commenting on the incident, said insulting the American people in general is Lady Astor's line of goods. It advised giving her the silent treatment, and added: "And the same for the rest of the multitude of aliens who keep coming over here and telling us how to handle our affairs."

Most Americans will agree that Lady Astor deserved rebuke, but is Collier's qualified to throw the first stone? Isn't it a case of the pot and the kettle?

Collier's also delights to enter regions where it is alien, and there criticize the people and tell them how to handle their affairs.

Chick Ace Looks Like Another Hubbell

When Young Jim Goodwin takes the mound for the Memphis Chicks, fans shake their heads and wonder if time hasn't receded and they are watching King Carl Hubbell in action.

And the opposing batsmen, frequently downright helpless against Goodwin's assortment of left-handed pitches, are sure of it.

"He's going to be a great pitcher," Manager Jack Onslow, of the Chicks, remarked. "For a left-hander, his control is uncanny."

"You see how much he looks like Hubbell. Well, Carl had a lot to do with his development. The White Sox drafted him from Jersey City. He's only 22 and has been in the Giant system since signing a contract.

"Hubbell, who is head of the New York minor league system, took an interest in him and helped him a lot. He even wears his trousers like Hub did—you know, Ol' Longpants—and he's got a screwball, which was Carl's best pitch."

Goodwin has been with the Chicks for only a month or so, but he's won five while losing two. "He hasn't pitched a bad game," Onslow said.

Crackers Tough With Jersey City last season, Goodwin won 11 while losing seven. He walked an average of only three men a game, adequate proof of good control for a southpaw.

"Yes, Onslow remarked, "if I had had Goodwin all season we would be leading the league several games right now."

"In fact," he laughed, "our lead now would be more than a few percentage points if it hadn't been for Atlanta. I don't know why, but the Crackers have given us more trouble than any other club in the league. Why? I have no idea. We play as well against them as anybody, but they seem to battle us right down the wire in every game. It's just one of those things in baseball, I guess."

A check of the records revealed Mr. Onslow entirely correct. Prior to Sunday's double-header, Atlanta had won nine and lost eight from the Chicks, but this doesn't tell the whole story.

Four of those losses were in a row in the opening series. Most of the Atlanta victories have come when they hurt the Chicks most, when they were struggling for the lead.

Engel's Spitter In his playing days, Onslow was a catcher and among the pitchers he caught was Joe Engel, the Chattanooga Barnum, when both were at Buffalo.

"Engel was just as screwy then as he is now," Jack laughed. "He had good stuff, but couldn't control it. Clark Griffith sent him down to Buffalo to learn to get the ball over.

"Joe also had a wide variety of pitches, including a spitter. But he only threw that to me once.

"I signaled for a fast ball and he nodded. But he threw a spitter and it hit my mitt and bounced off against my chin, but I finally caught it. I looked out there and Engel was trying to hide a grin behind his glove.

"I started out to the mound. He saw me coming and turned and headed out toward Joe McCarthy, who was playing second base. I took dead aim and hit him right in the small of the back with the ball. It knocked him down, but he got up and resumed pitching.

"It was the only time he ever threw a spitter to me."

Keen Strategist Onslow, whose job of leading an underrated Memphis team into first place ranks with the best performances of the season, is a keen strategist.

In addition to playing the percentages, as all winning managers do, he also uses psychology to gain every possible advantage.

Of course, Jack doesn't admit that his actions in protesting, charging pitchers with using spitters and arguing some minor point in the rules are designed solely to get the enemy's goat.

But neither does he deny it. Take a recent game in Memphis, for example, when he continuously accused Norman Brown of throwing a spitter.

He finally got Brownie upset to the point of argument.

"We got three straight hits off him after that," Onslow grinned.

Marchildon Beans Fan Sitting Ten Rows Back

DETROIT, Aug. 1—In days to come pitchers with no control will not be described as being "wild as a March hare," but "wild as a Marchildon." (Get it?)

In Detroit yesterday Phil Marchildon not only pitched the Athletics into first place, but gave one of the finest exhibitions of wildness of the current season.

In the ninth he walked three Tigers and hit another to force in a run. (Charles Harris relieved him and got the side out on one pitch.) In all, he walked seven men. But his really great moment came when he uncorked a pitch which beaned Sam Wexler, a Detroit fan sitting 10 rows back in the stands between the plate and third base. Sam, a visitor from Toledo, was carted off to the Briggs Stadium first-aid room where he was ministered to. He was pronounced fully recovered when later released by attendants.

Cards Cut Loop Lead Of Braves

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The fourth-place St. Louis Cardinals yesterday reduced the National League lead of the Boston Braves to five games by defeating the Tribe, 9-6, before a paid Boston crowd of 26,324 fans who saw the local club give poor support to Starting Pitcher Nelson Potter who suffered his first National League defeat.

Three doubleheaders in the National League were rained out yesterday. Those postponed were Pittsburgh at Brooklyn, Chicago at New York and Cincinnati at Philadelphia.

Chicks Capture Lone Game, 2-0

By F. M. WILLIAMS
Constitution Sports Writer

PONCE DE LEON PARK, Aug. 1—Old Jupiter Pluvius had the Crackers and the Chicks on the floor twice before he landed a knockout punch in the eight inning of the first game of a scheduled double-header to give the League-leading Memphians a 2-to-0 victory before the smallest Sunday crowd of the season at Ponce de Leon Park yesterday. Paid attendance was 4,010.

Twice halted by hard rains and played on a field that in spots was ankle-deep in mud, the game was finally washed out by the hardest downfall of them all right after the Chicks had finished their turn at bat in the eighth.

The second game of the double bill will have to be played in Memphis on Sept. 11, if it is played at all. The Chicks do not return to Ponce de Leon this year.

Young Bob Schultz and Billy Briggs, a pair of left-handers, bested Bill Kennedy, ace Cracker southpaw in a tight duel. Schultz was in constant trouble and finally was yanked in the sixth when he gave up a single and walked a man.

Briggs walked one more to load the bases but got out of the hole by forcing Fred Chapman to sky to third base. He had a perfect seventh inning and the rains came before he could go any farther.

The Chicks got their runs after each of the first two rainstorms.

After a 40-minute delay in the first inning, Johnny Antonelli greeted Kennedy with a double and moved over to third when Grover Bowers dropped a Texas Leaguer into left. Roy Bueschen singled to score him.

The Crackers had two on with two out when time was called again in the fifth inning. Finally, after about 30 more minutes, play was resumed, although Manager Jack Onslow protested strenuously that the grounds were in no condition to continue.

Chet Hajduk popped to short to leave the winning runs on base and the Chicks promptly pushed over their second tally when they came to bat.

Paul Armstrong and Antonelli singled and Armstrong scored as Bowers hit into a double play.

The Crackers left 11 men on base during the seven-inning tilt, touching Schultz and Briggs for seven hits and getting four free passes but they couldn't hit in the clutch.

The Little Rock Travelers move into Ponce de Leon for a single game Monday night while Memphis goes to Birmingham.

Norman Brown is scheduled to hurl for Atlanta against the Travelers.

U. S. CAN CLINCH OLYMPIC HONORS WITH SWEEP TODAY

LONDON, Aug. 1—(AP)—America's Olympic athletes, who collected five gold medals and an amazing total of 94 points on Saturday, will be shooting for more of both tomorrow when the 1948 games are continued after a day's rest brought on by the British blue laws.

The 800-meter run, 5,000-meter run, pole vault and discus are down for settlement in track and field, and a sweep of the three events virtually would assure Uncle Sam a continuation of the championship of this phase of the games.

Only the women's 100-meter swim title will be decided in the tank tomorrow and the red, white and blue girls aren't expected to molest the Danish ladies in this. Trials in the men's 400-meters will continue.

Also on the track program are the first two heats of the 200 meters, which has been an American monopoly for many years. Mel Patton, Barney Ewell and Cliff Bourland appear capable of protecting American interests.

Indians Knock Red Sox From Lead; A's on Top

Boston's Red Sox skidded from first to fourth place in the American League yesterday by losing a double-header to the Cleveland Indians, 12-2 and 6-1, before 70,000 at Cleveland.

Only eight percentage points separated the first division. Philadelphia grabbed first by trimming Detroit, Cleveland slipped into second and New York took third by winning a double-header over the Chicago White Sox.

YANK CATCHER GUS NIARHOS SCORES. CHISOX CATCHER IS AARON ROBINSON

The Tribe got eight hits off Mickey Harris and Tex Hughson in the nightcap, and ex-St. Louis Brownie Sam Zoldak was the winning pitcher. Joe Gordon and Allie Clark homered for Cleveland and Ted Williams got one for the Red Sox.

Bob Lemon held the Sox to six hits in the opener and was the first Cleveland pitcher to go the distance in 17 games. The losing pitcher was Ellis Kinder.

The Athletics took the lead by beating the Tigers 4-2 at Detroit while Boston was bowing to Cleveland in both ends of a double-header. Phil Marchildon took credit for his eighth victory on a five-hit job but had to have help in the ninth from Charles (Bubba) Harris when he walked three men and hit another to force a run across.

Vic Raschi pitched and batted New York to an 8-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox in the first game of a double-header at Chicago. He pitched a six-hitter for his 13th win of the year and batted in three runs with two singles and a double. The Yanks won the second, 7-5, and swept into third place.

Home runs by Dick Kokos, Jerry Priddy and Al Zarilla provided the punch as the St. Louis Browns triumphed over the Washington Senators, 8-5, in the first game of a double-header at St. Louis. The Senators won the second game 4-3.

ROLFE SAYS

Major Clubs Feel Player Shortage, Too

By F. M. WILLIAMS

The scarcity of baseball players is a serious problem for big league clubs as well as the independents in the minors—such as the Atlanta Crackers—"Red" Rolf now head of the Detroit Tigers farm system but more widely known as the fellow who held down third base for the New York Yankees for nine years during the reign of Lou Gehrig and Babe Ruth, said here yesterday.

Rolfe, who has been on a tour of Detroit farm teams in this section, was the guest of Cracker President Earl Mann at the game between the Crackers and the Chicks.

"The demand for ball players is greater now than ever," Rolfe disclosed. "That's because there are so many more leagues than ever before." He believes it might be several years before the problem works itself out.

"Red" thinks the practice of paying young ball players fantastic bonuses to sign contracts will cease sooner than most people expect.

"It's got to stop, we all know that," he declared. "I believe that when a few of the clubs with plenty of money to spend get their rosters clogged with bonus players they'll get back to normalcy." malcy."

Red had a piece of advice to young players signing up today.

"When I finished college my coach told me to sign with a ball club that was consistently up in the race and that I would realize more money in the long run. That was good advice, for nine years with the Yankees I played in six World Series.

"That's what I'd advise kids to do these days, too. Find a club that's always in the first division and join 'em."

Off for Tourney

The Atlanta Naval Air Station softball team, recent winner in the Sixth Naval District Tournament, left yesterday for Charleston to play in the Eastern District Navy meet. E. H. Koch, AMC, who plays third base, is the team captain, while Julius Vara, Chief Radioman, is the Manager.

Bear Home Runs Nip Vols in Ninth

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mobile's Bears continued their mastery of the fading Nashville Vols yesterday, clipping Mgr. Larry Gilbert's club, 5-3, at Mobile on the strength of ninth-inning homers by Hayden Greer and Cal Abrams. The win gave the Bears the series, 4-1.

Forrest Burgess clouted a four-bagger in the sixth for Nashville to give the Vols a brief lead.

The loss dropped the Vols a game and a half behind Memphis, and cut their second-place lead over the Bears to two games.

The Birmingham Barons split with Little Rock at Birmingham

Birmingham traded Pitcher Alex Ronay and Outfielder Joe Schelt to Little Rock for Outfielder Ben Cantrell Saturday night. Cantrell is batting .339 and has driven in 83 runs. Scheldt is batting .290 and has 29 RBIs. Ronay, used lately as a relief pitcher, has won 6 and lost 9.

as George Wilson and Walt Dropo hit two home runs each. The Travelers overcame a five-run Baron lead to win the opener, 11-8, but dropped the nightcap, 4-2, to the three-hit pitching of John Hoffman.

Wilson and Dropo both hit two-run homers in the first inning of the opener. Wilson added his second in the fifth, while Dropo clouted another in the sixth inning of the nightcap.

New Orleans and Chattanooga split in New Orleans, with the Pels slugging out a 16-5 win in the opener, and the Lookouts hammering Lee Howard and Jim Kleckley for a 10-4 victory in the nightcap.

The Pels shelled Hal Toenes and Frank Rosso for 23 safeties in the first game.

Aces Beat Hapeville

The College Park Aces beat the Hapeville North Avenue nine, 12-4, on the S. R. Young diamond in Hapeville yesterday in a sandlot baseball game. Ralph Harris was the winning pitcher.

GAL FAN ROUTS UMP, HOLDS HELD IN HER ARMS

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 1—(AP)—There is one lady here who really takes her baseball seriously.

After New Orleans' third baseman, Handsome Hershel Held, swatted a three-run homer in the fifth inning of the first game with Chattanooga this afternoon, she ran onto the field, stiff-armed Umpire Andy Mitchell and charged on Held as he crossed the plate. She followed him to the bench, and, to the delight of more than 6,000 fans, gave the infielder a big hug.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Lip Brings In Veteran And Rookie

(Condensed From AP, UP, INS. Wire Reports)

Seeking more lefthand hitting power, the New York Giants have obtained Rookie Outfielder Don Mueller from Jersey City and Veteran Utility Infielder Lonnie Frey from Minneapolis, their two farm clubs in the Triple-A League.

Mueller is a long-ball hitter with an average over .300 in the International League. Frey, who has seen big league service at Brooklyn, Chicago and Cincinnati in the National and with the Yankees in the American, is a good clutch hitter.

Balmy weather, following cold and rain, has helped the British Olympic financial situation. A sell-out crowd of 83,000 turned out Saturday and another capacity gathering is expected today.

Veteran Pitcher "Buck" Ross, of the Toledo Mud Hens, pitched a seven-inning no-hit, no-run game yesterday at Toledo, beating Minneapolis, 1-0. Ross struck out six and walked three.

The racing scene shifts from Arlington Park to Washington Park in Chicago today and in New York the Saratoga-at-Jamaica meeting will get underway. Highlight at Chicago will be the $100,000 American Derby. Saratoga will offer $282,500 in purses.

Tommy Gibbons, Minnesota Sheriff, best known for his 15-round battle with Jack Dempsey, thinks Dempsey would have beaten Joe Louis if both could have fought in their primes. "Dempsey could beat anyone he could hit," Tommy said, adding: "He would have hit Louis just as Conn, Schmeling, Walcott and Galento did."

The Cleveland Indians received a setback yesterday when their rightfielder, Hank Edwards, dislocated a shoulder when he caught it in a fence after stabbing Stan Spence's almost certain home run with two men on bases in yesterday's first game with the Boston Red Sox. A Tribe spokesman said it might keep Edwards out of action the rest of the season.

Big Cliff Aberson, former Green Bay Packer football player and now performing in the Los Angeles Angels' outfield, rocketed three home runs out of the park in a doubleheader with San Francisco yesterday. Aberson also contributed a single, and his total for the day was six runs batted in.

LEGION PLAY-OFF TODAY

Canton Halts Rally To Beat Lakewood

By JACK JACKSON
Constitution Sports Writer

BUFORD, Aug. 1—Bespectacled Marvin Satterfield, who hurled a one-hitter against Summerville last night, choked off a desperate ninth-inning Lakewood rally here this afternoon to give Canton a 5-4 victory over the Fifth District champs and send the Area American Legion baseball tournament into an extra day of play tomorrow.

Satterfield relieved Jimmy Jarrett with one away and the bases full, after the Redbirds had scored twice to run the count to 5-3. He fanned Harry Goss, then weakened long enough to walk Pig Campbell and push Bud Ballew across with the fourth Lakewood tally, but forced Pepper Rogers to pop weakly to Catcher Brannon Ridings to end the rally.

It had been a tight pitchers' duel until the ninth. Buddy Young, on the hill for the Redbirds, had given up just one infield single, but had issued eight bases on balls at crucial points to fall behind, 3-1. Jarrett had pitched masterfully in the clutches, leaving 11 men stranded on the base paths. He gave up six hits.

In the top of the ninth, Wheeler Fowler led off for Canton with the Ninth District Champs' first solid blow, a double over the center fielder's head. Satterfield walked, and Fowler moved up on a passed ball. Ridings forced Satterfield, but Charles Rhodes lined a single to center, scoring Fowler and Ridings, who had stolen second. Frank Mosley added Canton's fourth hit, another single, but Young retired the next two batters.

Lakewood's late surge began with one away. Billy Morris, pinch hitting for Charley Brannon, beat out an infield single. Roy Martin walked. Bud Ballew hit one into the ground in front of the plate, and beat it out to load the bases. Jarrett then lost his control, walking Cecil Trainer and Ray Guyton to force in two runs, and bring on Satterfield.

The Redbirds' loss was their first in six Legion tourney games. They won the Fifth District by taking four straight, and defeated Summerville here Friday night.

The two teams clash for the title tomorrow night at 8:15, with Johnny Morris tabbed to hurl for Lakewood and probably Satterfield again for Canton.

Wheeler Fowler, Canton third baseman, walked his first four times at bat today. He doubled on his fifth try.

Satterfield and Fowler teamed to make several impossible infield plays. Canton made 10 errors in losing to Summerville Thursday, but played near perfect defensive ball today.

Pig Campbell stole home in the second for Lakewood's first run.

Young, after a wild first inning, which saw Canton score twice on one infield hit, fanned the side in the second, with a walk issued to Fowler sandwiched in between.

Sandy Springs Leads North Atlanta League

Sandy Springs defeated Roswell, 9-4, yesterday afternoon at Sandy Springs to move into first place in the North Atlanta Amateur Baseball League chase with a record of five wins and one setback.

G. B. Sewell, the Sandy Springs mound ace, notched his sixth straight victory as he turned back the Roswellites on eight hits. Roswell now holds second place with five wins and two losses.

Alpharetta, first half winner, was tied up 4-all with Austell when rain halted the game with one away in the last half of the 10th inning. Ernest Ellerbee held Alpharetta to five safeties but Alpharetta took advantage of four miscues to keep abreast of Austell until the rain interrupted proceedings.

Haralson and Tell, the two heated rivals of the Flint River loop, both turned in victories yesterday. Haralson whipped Fayetteville, 9-3, in a rain-abbreviated tilt at Fayetteville, while Tell, with Hoover Tally still unable to resume his mound chores, topped Jonesboro, 7-3.

Hiram, first half winner in the State League, pulled into a tie for second place by trouncing Cary Park, 13-1, behind the five-hit chunking of G. Mitchell. Powder Springs, the current league leader, beat Lemon District, 6-2 in a game called at the end of the seventh inning because of rain.

Several of the games were washed out before they became regulation affairs, while all games in the Southern and American Legion leagues were unreported.

The four-foot alligator wandered into the unit's motor pool at Camp Stewart and took refuge from the intense heat under a large truck. Despite kindly treatment from Sgts. GOPs Aim County Tilts In Texas

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 1—(AP)—Texas Republicans, stirred by belief in National victory in the November general election, have picked candidates to fight Democratic nominees on the grass-roots level.

Reports from the Party's County Conventions Saturday showed local tickets of one or more candidates nominated in at least seven counties. Such action is precedent-breaking for the GOP in Texas.

The County Conventions also named delegates to the Party's Aug. 10 State Convention in Waco. There George C. Hopkins, retiring State GOP Chairman, plans to carry his fight with National Committeeman R. B. Creager over Hopkins' successor.

Hopkins and his supporters walked out at Dallas Saturday to hold a rump convention and indorse his choice, Hobart McDowell, of San Angelo.

The regular GOP Convention at Dallas named delegates who would support Henry Zweifel, of Fort Worth, sponsored by Creager.

Creager, long powerful in Texas Republicanism, has claimed victory for his man. He supported Sen. Robert A. Taft for the Republican presidential nomination.

Hopkins supported the nominee, Thomas E. Dewey. He has said he had a letter from Dewey supporting him in his fight for his successor.

Police Order Hits Street Cameramen

A crackdown on reported violations by sidewalk photographers has been ordered by Police Chief Herbert Jenkins under a city ordinance which requires the photographers to have permission from business men in front of whose establishments they operate.

Patrolmen have been instructed to see if the photographers have written permission from the business establishments as well as business permits from the City Clerk, Jenkins said.

The Police Department has received numerous complaints from persons who placed orders with sidewalk photographers, paid a deposit and failed to receive the pictures, the Police Chief said.

GEORGIA TRAINS FOR PEACE

Guardsmen Returning After 2 Tough Weeks

By PAT KELLY

The long two weeks are over.

National Guardsmen from 45 Georgia towns and cities returned home yesterday from Fort Jackson, S. C., and Camp Stewart, Ga., after what, for many of them, were the toughest, most revealing two weeks in their lives—the annual field training exercises of Georgia's citizen-soldiers.

The infantrymen went to Fort Jackson, the antiaircraft artillerymen to Camp Stewart. But the difference was one in name only. At both big military reservations, the Guardsmen lived as soldiers—ate, slept and worked together in the common cause of national security, learned how to get along with one another under trying conditions and tested the terrifying new weapons of war which they may, some day, be called upon to use against an aggressive enemy.

Both Maj. Gen. Henry D. Russell, Forty-eighth Division Commander at Fort Jackson and Brig. Gen. Joseph B. Fraser, 108th AAA Brigade Commander at Camp Stewart, expressed themselves as "eminently satisfied" with the Georgia guardsmen's performance, branding the 1948 encampments as "the most instructive and effective in National Guard history."

Pay call sounded at 0700 at both camps Saturday and—as though a little surprised—many new men collected privates' pay of $37.50 a little gingerly. To them, apparently, being paid to help bolster their country's safety was a little like gilding the lily—like a reward for doing what instinct demanded they do.

But then, the world is full of surprising things, isn't it?

Hopes 3 Sermons Heard Not Typical

By THOMAS M. ELLIOTT

TYPICAL SERMONS?—Since retirement from an active pastorate, this reporter has declined numerous invitations to preach, but has used the opportunity to hear others.

Three sermons heard come to mind and the question arises: Are these sermons typical of sermons being delivered by America's 150,000 preachers?

One parson preached on "Passing the Buck." To a man well grounded in Bible history and teaching, as well as secular history, there is a good preaching possibility in that subject. Mut this particular parson never did get his hands on the buck, much less pass it.

A Doctor of Divinity was to preach on "Some Characteristics of a Christian Home." Good preaching ground in that field, it seemed. The Doctor preached 30 minutes and told 20 jokes. The people listened with interest and enjoyed real belly-laughs. But no homes were dedicated to God, and no family altars were set up.

In a congregation of 2,200 were 1,700 young people under 22 years of age. What chance for the highbrow preacher! What an opportunity for a warm-hearted, appealing gospel message, instead of a hair-splitting study of theology. The preacher missed his chance, and told a questionable story that took 10 minutes. It largely nullified the balance of his discourse. And everybody wondered.

Are these sermons typical of sermons delivered from Rabun Gap to Tybee Light? Maybe St. Paul, in 1 Cor. 1:21, meant preaching foolishness, rather than the foolishness of preaching.

BAPTIST MEETINGS: Between now and next Jan. 1, 88 Georgia Baptist Associations will be assembling for their annual sessions. The associational meetings are of utmost importance, bringnig together for two or three days ministers and lay leaders from 20 or more Baptist churches in a county or similar area for worship, study, fellowship and inspiration. The associational meetings are usually revival occasions, with messengers returning to their home churches renewed in spirit and faith.

The basic unit in the Baptist denomination is the individual church. In the associational meetings groups from the individual churches of a given area discuss and adopt plans for promoting religion in their immediate areas. The Georgia State Convention assembles ministers and lay representatives of the 88 associations, for the same purpose. The Southern Baptist Convention assembles officials, ministers and laymen from all the states for the Southwide promotion of religion. The Baptist World Alliance operates similarly for the nations of the World.

This week and during the following weeks in August the following Georgia Associations are to meet. Gilmer-Fannin, at Mount Pleasant; Hiawassee, at Mount Zion; Catoosa County, at Pleasant Grove; Notla River at Zebulon Church; Lookout Valley, at Sulphur Springs Crossroads; Morganton, at Mobile; Central, at Carmel Church, and Lawrenceville, at Center Hill.

METHODIST CHAIN: Methodist pastors are closely interlinked in their pulpit assignments, as was demonstrated two weeks ago at the close of the Methodist Conference, when the death of a college president involved the assignment of 18 men in a direct way, and scores of others indirectly, as well as reaching into two states.

The chain is as follows: W. R. Key was placed as supply pastor at Cartersville Douglas Street Church, following J. D. Booth, who went to Atlanta Fox Street Church, to succeed F. L. King, who went to Woodbury, following J. H. Couch, who transferred to Hampton as the successor to H. G. O'Bryant, who followed V. L. Bray at the Thomaston Hightower Church.

V. L. Bray left the Hightower Church to go to Griffin Hanleiter Church, following W. H. Henderson, who followed Frank Prince at Sardis, while Prince moved to Trion to take the place held by J. A. Lunsford, who trekked to the Atlanta Payne Memorial Church, following C. C. Cliet, who made a change to Ringgold.

When Cliett reached Ringgold, he was in the footsteps of G. W. Davis, who moved to Jonesboro, to follow Hubert Dodd, who followed C. W. Fruit at Commerce, while Fruit went to Calhoun, succeeding Y. A. Oliver, who followed C. L. Allen at Thomson, when Allen went to Atlanta Grace Church, following C. B. Harbour, who moved over to Mobile, Ala., to succeed W. C. Cowart, who transferred to Thomaston Church, to follow A. L. Gilmore, who came to Atlanta as Education Secretary, succeeding W. G. Henry, Jr., who was made president of LaGrange College, following the death of Dr. Hubert T. Quillian.

This chain indicates something of the problem confronting the bishop and his cabinet in making 169 pastoral changes, with 48 of them in two districts.

A Woman's World

LET'S SEE NOW

The Door Is Open--Please Come In

By DORIS LOCKERMAN

It is an easy thing to say.

It is an easy thing to say you are dissatisfied with the way women appear in your newspaper and the way they are considered in the light of print, and to promise boldly that you will do a better job of reflecting them truly, when you get the chance.

You know exactly what is wrong.

You can flip off the errors. Too much superficiality, you say, thinking of the flippant tales that come from cafe society the world around; too much selfishness, thinking of the extravagances present in some society reporting; too much personal aggrandizement, thinking of the people whose names appear again and again in the news when they have done little to earn the billing; too much big talk, thinking of the ones who rise in public to point with pride and beg to advise and now-in-closing . . . All that, you know, will be a cinch to correct.

Until, suddenly, you have a chance to do it.

The management of The Atlanta Constitution, which has always valued its women readers and has tried increasingly to respect their accomplishments and concerns, today opens the door as wide as it will open, and says: "Come in! We want to know you better!"

Now it is up to us.

What are we like, the women readers of a metropolitan newspaper?

Why, we are country women, with capable hands, worried about farm prices and crop rotation and Future Farmers and 4-H Clubs; we are young wives trying to make a trailer or a rented room into a castle and beginner's hardtack into biscuits like Mother used to make; we are mothers bending over babies in the crib in the early morning, sending sons off to the draft or sitting up sleepily late at night waiting for our daughters to tell us about their glorious first big party; we are grandmothers, mothers-in-law, kid sisters, maiden aunts, bachelor girls. We are city women, because Atlanta alone claims 500,000 people as its own.

We think of our schools restlessly, knowing we must help with education, and we think of our budgets, knowing we must hold them in check. Our eyes dart to such words as "polio," "juvenile delinquency," "cost of living."

We are voters, squirming through problems for which we know well there are no easy answers.

We are churchgoers, some of us blessed with faith that is a protection against the fears of the future and the unknown. But not enough of us.

We are soap opera addicts, hillbilly fans and we dress up, in the Spring, for Atlanta's moment with the Metropolitan.

Some of us are homeowners, proud of our lawns and our gardens and our smartly painted houses, and some of us are homeless and resentful because we are without a shelter of our own.

Many of us have jobs downtown, and most of us try to do more than one job, being called upon more and more in our role as citizens.

The Constitution will try each day to mirror some part of the frightening variety of interests and "wants" of the women it serves.

But in the end it will please only part of them, part of the time, and not one of us, here in the newspaper, will ever be really satisfied with the results.

We will need every woman, and every woman's thinking.

A newspaper is only a channel for the community it serves.

SOLUTION, AT LONG LAST

Beauty Wallet Lightens Burden of Pocketbook

By MAYNITA GERRY
Constitution Fashion Editor

A bulge on your pocketbook might be better than one on your hips . . . but we'd hate to hear what the pocketbook has to say about this.

Just why women consider it necessary to equip their handbags with enough stuff to live comfortable on the outskirts of Siberia for a year, is something the men, at least, have always considered a moot question—but one they'd like clarified just the same.

Harriet Hubbard Ayer, while not even attempting to offer an explanation, has nevertheless devised a cure for it.

She calls it a Beauty Wallet, a small, carry-all cosmetic kit (in the shape of a wallet) that takes the place of all those mysterious, tobacco flaked, powder-caked little bags and packets you carry in your pocketbook and think you can't do without.

It contains everything, or room for everything anyone is likely to carry in her bag, make-up—in the new, golden plaid compact and lipstick—a billfold, extra pockets for identification cards, driver's license, stamps as well as a slot for a favorite picture.

The Beauty Wallet is made of imported Morocco leather and comes in bright red, tree green and black.

Every woman in the world will probably receive one from the man of her life at one time or another as a silent protest against something that's always gnawed at the male gentry . . . the bulging pocketbook.

But don't take a chance that he'll know where to find one. Point him in the direction of your favorite cosmetic counter—and give him a soft push.—M. G.

Serve Coffee Chiffon Cake After Evening of Bridge

By SALLY SAVER

Those evening bridge foursomes always call for a bit of refreshment to top off the day. And it's good to have something all ready that can be served in a jiffy.

Here's a new recipe for Coffee Chiffon Cake, a treat any day in the year and a real Summer delight when served with tall frosty glasses of iced coffee. But here's a warning. To make this new cake, which is something between an angel and sponge-type, directions must be followed to the letter. The recipe follows:

COFFEE CHIFFON CAKE
2 cups sifted, enriched all-purpose flour
1½ cups sugar
3 teaspoons double action baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup salad oil
7 egg yolks
Cup coffee
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup egg whites (7 or 8)
½ teaspoon cream of tartar

To measure sifted flour, spoon lightly into cup and level off with spatula. Sift together into mixing bowl flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Make a "well" in flour mixture and add, in order, salad oil, unbeaten egg yolks, coffee and vanilla. Beat with a spoon until smooth. Whip egg whites with cream of tartar until they form very stiff peaks—much stiffer than for angel food or meringue. Pour first mixture gradually over egg whites, gently folding with rubber scraper just until blended. Pour into ungreased 10-inch tube pan, 4 inches deep. Bake in moderately slow oven, 325 F., 55 minutes, then increase heat to 350 F., and bake 10 to 15 minute longer, or until top springs back when lightly touched. Turn pan upside down, at once, with extreme outer edges of pan resting on two other pans. Let hang free of table until cold. Loosen from sides and tube with spatula. Turn pan over and hit edge sharply on table to loosen. Frost with Coffee Sugar Frosting. The recipe follows:

COFFEE SUGAR FROSTING
½ cup butter or margerine
4 cups confectioner's sugar
6 tablespoons cold, double-strength coffee
½ teaspoon vanilla

Cream butter or margerine until consistency of mayonnaise. Sift sugar, add alternately with coffee. Add vanilla.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

'How Would You Feel?'

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

To be able to put yourself into the other fellow's shoes is a very important social skill.

Psychologists have a rather fancy term—"empathy"—for this ability to feel one's self into another person's situation or experience. Nowhere, perhaps, is it more important than in the parent-child relationship.

This is something to think about if you happen to be a parent who finds himself constantly comparing one child unfavorably with another. You know the sort of thing—"Why can't you be as neat and quiet as Mary Ann, next door?" Or, "Tessie, P-L-E-A-S-E! Try to sit up straight like your sister."

One of the main reasons we use such methods is because we are anxious to have our children behave properly, be thought of as nice children, worthy of us and our training. But what is likely to be the effect on the child's feeling about himself, his security?

Suppose you try to put yourself in a similar situation but on the adult level. How would you feel if your husband (or wife) came in and said, "Dear, I saw Mr. (or Mrs.) Jones today and he (or she) was so attractively dressed. Everyone noticed him (or her). Why don't you spruce up a bit and try to look as nice?" This business of unfavorable comparison with another person is pretty risky for child or adult. It undercuts one's self-confidence. Stop and ed to use it with one of your youngsters. "How would I feel?" ask yourself when you're tempt-

To Remove Spots

Some silks, rayons and wools are spotted by water. To remove such spots dampen the entire material evenly, either by sponging with clean water or by shaking in the steam from a briskly boiling teakettle. Then press while still damp. Scratching with the fingernail or a stiff brush or rubbing the cloth between the hands will sometimes remove the spot.

There's nothing for you to do . . . just hand your bundle to our routeman or call office attendant.*

Communism Airing--- U. S., Georgia Brands

By RITA VAN PELT

"Communism—U. S. Brand!" What is it? What is its structure? How does it work? For a revealing behind-the-scenes view of Communism on both the national and local level, ABC and WCON have set aside one hour and a half tonight and will bring some startling revelations. . . .

Beginning at 9 p. m. the network will present an hour-long documentary which gives facts, structure and workings of the Communist —from 10 to 10:30 p. m.—WCON will present "Communism—Georgia Brand" which will include a report by Ralph McGill, Editor of The Constitution, followed by a round-table discussion by Hal Dumas, President of Southern Bell; C. B. McManus, President of Georgia Power Company; Alan Post, prominent Atlanta attorney, and others. News Director Lockwood Doty will act as moderator. (This is the program that was reviewed by the Daily Worker while in process of preparation.)

The night's laugh parade is headed by Robert Q. Lewis who rambles along through gag lines and sings some favorite tunes in his impromptu manner on WGST's "Robert Q. Lewis Show" at 7 p. m. . . . While in the disc department: WCON's "Tonight's Star Band" (with Charlie Spivak as tonight's star brightening the firmament at 10:30 p. m.) and Tommy Dorsey's original disc jockey show at 5:05 p. m. out at WBGE, bring two musical hot spots to the radio dial.

"Club 15," rendezvous for popular music and high point in CBS entertainment schedule, reopens its doors after an eight-week Summer vacation. The time—7:30 p. m. over WGST.

CHANNING COPE'S ALMANAC:

3d Year Rotation Ups Cotton Yield

MONDAY, AUG. 2, 1948

Suggestion of the day: All of the experiment stations are working on interesting farm problems. Maybe it would be a good idea to visit them during the dog days.

STATISTICS MEAN TWO THINGS

A statistic is a peculiar thing; it sets out to mean one thing and it winds up (sometimes) meaning something else. For instance, the figures quoted by us recently from results obtained by the SCS Experiment Station at Watkinsville on cotton production with and without proper rotations make out a very good case against further cotton production on the average lands of seven percent slope and with half of the topsoil gone. The best that the farmer can do (according to these figures) is about 1,070 pounds of seed cotton per acre. And this is somewhat less than a bale.

But look at the reverse picture. Here is a farmer trying to make a living on these same average acres and if he will use the right seed, plant his crop on the contour, fertilize with 500 lbs. of 6-8-6 and 100 lbs. of nitrate of soda, he will produce 785.2 lbs. of seed cotton. But . . . if he will move his crop about and put it on different land each year for a period of 3 years, meanwhile building up the land with oats and two years of Kobe lespedeza, he will increase that 785.2 lbs. to 1,070 lbs. And this is a sizeable increase. Meanwhile, he has bettered the tilth of his soil, increased the organic content, made some oats and lespedeza seed and hay for sale or use and has bettered his labor distribution.

So . . . a farmer has two ways of looking at these figures; if he is not doing as well as these figures indicate he should be doing, there is room for hope. If he has reached the zenith (say at around 1070 lbs. of seed cotton) it is time for him to look into other fields and see how he can still better his condition; maybe by bringing that average land cotton down onto class 2 land.

And if you like slow tempo radio programs, tune us in at 6 a. m. and 12:45 p. m. WCON at 55 on the dial.

Cordially,

Channing Cope

Wrapping Paper vs. News Media

TOKYO, Aug. 1—(AP)—Major Tokyo newspapers today proudly inaugurated four-page Sunday editions — twice the size of daily issues.

Slightly better newsprint production permitted the increase.

Subscribers were as happy as the publishers, because newspapers are worth more as wrapping paper than as media of news. A three-month subscription costs 126 yen (about 45 cents), while junk dealers will gladly pay 200 yen for a three-month stack of old papers and sell at a profit.

WATCH FOR THE WHITE TRUCK—Above is the new white truck now operated for quick pick-up and delivery by the Atlanta Rug Cleaning-Dyeing Company, 1520 Spring St., N. W., Phone AT. 5962. Frequent steam cleaning gives rugs and carpets longer life, say Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Gano, owners of the Company. They are also skilled in vat-dyeing and repairing rugs.

Have Your Rugs and Carpets Cleaned or Dyed by Experts

Atlanta housewives and managers of hotels, clubs and other institutions are finding the work of the Atlanta Rug Cleaning-Dyeing Company more and more essential in the cleaning and conservation of rugs and carpets.

Established here 10 years ago at 1520 Spring Street, N. W., this firm provides a completely reliable service that embraces every detail. The work is guaranteed and all rugs are fully insured against fire, theft, damage, or loss from the time they are picked up at your door until they are returned safely to your home.

When rugs are received by the Atlanta Rug Cleaning-Dyeing Company, they are carefully checked for needed repairs, including binding, refringing, renapping, or reweaving of moth holes and cigarette burns. Customers are notified in advance if any of this work is required, and Chinese or Persian yarns are used to create a perfect match on Orientals.

The only firm in Atlanta specializing exclusively in cleaning, vat-dyeing, and repairing rugs and carpets, the concern is also the only company in the city using the steam cleaning method, which demoths and sterilizes rugs, restoring their original resiliency and luster. Domestic rugs are sized to give them extra strength and body.

When you have a rug cleaned, dyed or repaired by the Atlanta Rug Cleaning-Dyeing Company, you have the satisfaction of knowing that the job wil be done by experts who have made this their life's work. Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Gano, owners of the firm, have had approximately 18 years of experience and are regarded as specialists in the field.

If your rug or carpet is faded or spotted, or if you wish to change its color for matching purposes, the firm will safely vat-dye your rug. The concern has just purchased a new machine for cleaning tacked-down carpets without removing them from the floor, and when necessary can also dye tacked-down carpets on the floor.

The Atlanta Rug Cleaning-Dyeing Company invites you to consult them about your rug problems. Call VE. 4019 or AT. 5962 for complete information.

Also Distributors For Pre-Fabricated Metal Buildings

By PRESS HUDDLESTON

Serving as state distributor for the Steelcraft Manufacturing Company over practically all of Georgia, and especially giving much attention to its steel building work in North Georgia, is the Calvert Iron Works, located at 1195 Victory Dr., S. W.

This well-known and long-established concern is keeping its forces busy in the sale and erection of Steelcraft buildings—large and small—and finding a ready sale of steel structures so readily adaptable to an unlimited number of manufacturing and industrial uses.

The advantage of Steelcraft buildings are many. For instance:

DESIGN—Built of standardized parts, Steelcraft buildings are permanent, and at the same time they may be modified or enlarged as your business demands. They may be dismantled and re-erected at new locations without loss of material.

MATERIAL—All materials are tested for tensile strength and load bearing qualities. The side wall and roof panels of ribbed aluminum alloy are designed for maximum strength. Weather-tight and corrosion-proof, Steelcraft buildings require no exterior finishing, unless desired.

DELIVERY—The mass-production facilities of Steelcraft's modern factory provide new economies and create speed of fabrication. In only a matter of weeks from the time the order is placed, your Steelcraft building is ready for occupancy.

SHIPPING—Steelcraft building are shipped knocked-down, in orderly arrangement for easy handling by rail or truck.

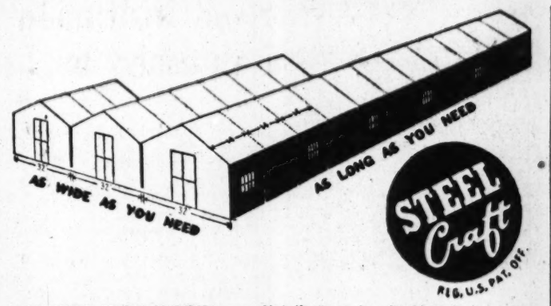
ERECTION—All parts are precision pre-fitted to assure accuracy and ease in field assembly. Each part is labeled plainly to correspond with easy-to-follow instructions furnished with every building. Erection is accomplished quickly without the use of special tools or equipment.

ECONOMY—Steelcraft buildings are economical, not only in initial cost per square foot, but require no painting of the aluminum exterior, which means little or no maintenance expense.

DURABILITY—Steelcraft buildings, being fire resistant, carry low fire insurance rates. Provision is made for insulation if required, so they may be easily heated. Steelcraft buildings will give years of trouble-free service with surprisingly low maintenance costs.

However, the model 32 building, which has a clear span width of 32 feet, furnished in any length of multiples of 14 feet is especially adaptable for countless storage and warehouse purposes. The 32-foot width and 12-foot high straight side walls provide adequate storage space. The low initial cost per square foot and the economy and speed of erection make it ideal for this purpose.

Another product of the Calvert Iron Works is now pushing is the sale of Steelcraft prefabricated garages, erected in a few hours, available in one-car and one-and-a-half car and also 2-car sizes. They are shipped "knockdown" in bundles and packages ready to erect. Every part is plainly marked and identified by labels and numbers which correspond to those in the erection manual and bill of material which are furnished.



CALVERT IRON WORKS are distributors for Steelcraft in practically all of Georgia.

'Headquarters for Home Repairs,' a Slogan Carried Out by I. Janko Co.

United Roofing & Siding Co., Experts, At 9 Courtland St.

By PRESS HUDDLESTON

Make that home of yours—if it is a bit weather-worn—look like practically a new home. You can make it not only more handsome in appearance, make it in keeping with the other pretty homes in your neighborhood, but you can offer protection with the right type of insulation and the right kind of roofing—protect it from fire and weather, while adding lasting beauty and reducing maintenance expense.

All this can be done for you by the United Roofing and Siding Company, located at No. 9 Courtland St., N. E. This concern, established quite a few months back, owned and operated by I. Janko, is fast building a reputation for excellent work and for the quality of materials used in its siding and roofing work. Mr. Janko is a man of years of experience in the type of work he is now rendering to scores of patrons, and he knows the experience and the dependable work his trained force of workers put into the jobs assigned to his concern, and so well executed by expert workmen under his supervision.

The siding used by the United Roofing and Siding Company is in many attractive colors, with French Way asbestos siding—a product of Flintkote—one of the popular sidings now in use.

This ideal shade or color brings new attractiveness to old homes or makes new homes more beautiful when applied on them. Asbestos fiber and Portland cement are the imperishable materials from which it is made. This is an asbestos that cannot rot, rust or burn, and adds beauty and fortifies the homes upon which it is installed.

Flintkote asbestos sidings quickly and economically transform an old, neglected house into a "new," distinctive home . . . attractive and substantial in appearance.

These remarkable new sidings can be applied right over old, dingy sidewalls without fuss or bother.

In addition, the concern offers Inselbric siding, if you prefer. Inselbric transforms old frame homes into beautiful new brick homes. It insulates while it beautifies! It adds comforts, increases value—and improves appearance.

The United Roofing and Siding Company is also among the best in installing a new roof for your home. The concern uses the Flintkote staple lock shingles—beauty and protection locked on your roof, and you'll be delighted with the trim, hexagonal design of Flintkote Staple Lox Shingles. Staple Lox Shingles are windproof, waterproof, weathertight . . . fire-resistant. Each package carries the approved label of the Fire Underwriters' Laboratory.

The concern has inaugurated a financial plan that will make it easy for you to meet. In addition to the FHA plan of 36 months to pay, this Company also arranges loans for homeowners covering not only the cost of any home improvements made by it, but also consolidating other obligations which may be pressing. Under this simple plan, the homeowner may have 10 to 12 years to pay on reasonable monthly installments.

So, call the United Roofing and Siding Company for the purpose of improving your home. The Company is well known as "Headquarters for Home Repairs." The phones are MA. 0083 and AL. 7759. Evenings and Sundays call AT. 8068. The Company will be glad to give free estimates on any type of work desired. It also is prepared to take care of insulation and roofing work out of Atlanta.

PRETTY HOME at 549 Cooper St., on which the United Roofing and Siding Company has recently installed asbestos siding, adding to its beauty and protection.

SHE BLOWS HER SOUSAPHONE—Little Claudia Lewis, two and one-half years old, is showing her daddy, Charles I. Lewis, head of the Lewis Plating Company, 237 Trinity Ave., S. W., how to toot a big horn left at his place to be repaired and refinished, while David Jones, three years old, is giving his father a few cornet blasts. His father, Willard Jones, is an expert band instrument repairer, and the Lewis Company does both silver plating and instrument repairing and refinishing.

Band Instruments Repaired and Refinished by Lewis Plating Co.

"We are not 'blowing our own horn'," said Charles I. Lewis, of the Lewis Plating Company, 237 Trinity Ave., S. W., "but we are interested in repairing and refinishing horns of all sizes and types so the other fellow can blow them."

Well, it wouldn't be out of order for Lewis to "blow his own horn," for the work he and Willard Q. Jones are doing in their finely-equipped plating plant is a service not only needed, but a service highly appreciated by the musicians in and around Atlanta who have occasion to use band instruments of any type or kind.

Both Lewis and Jones, while somewhat young men, are both "old hands" at the business of replating all types and pieces of holloware and flatware, either of silver or gold, while Jones is particularly an adept at repairing trumpets, Sousaphones, trombones, coronets, and any or all of the wind instruments used by bands and orchestras.

The Lewis Plating Company guarantees all the work done on band instruments, they make parts for old instruments, they make repairs by factory methods and expert repairmen. They do either gold or silver plating or lacquering, giving polished, satin and sandblast finishes. Not only in appearance do they make the owner of a horn feel that he has a brand-new instrument, but they rebuild and refit valves. To put it another way: They overhaul, repair and refinish an instrument until its owner feels he has a perfectly new one. It is the only concern hereabouts that devotes its time and energy to two combined services of the kind they do.

But that is not all. Lewis Plating Company offer the finest and most complete work of silver and gold-plating imaginable. Old silver is made to look like new. In fact the Company claims that it is the "South's largest exclusive silver platers"—and there seems to be no one to question their claim.

The company can give a one-week service on gold or silver plating on any piece of silver or gold basis. It is enriching and making more beautiful the dining rooms and home displays of many households by its beautiful plating work on special pieces, old antiques, and the like.

Employed by the concern are expert silversmiths of years of experience in both gold and silver plating and in the repair and refinishing of band instruments. Call them at WA. 0942 or WA. 0293. Estimates will be furnished free on any type of their popular service.

In the World Of Business

CAROSEL TOWELS—The United States Rubber Company has announced a reduction of approximately 20 percent in the price of its Carosel asbestos-cotton dish towels, which are now processed at the Company's asbestos plant in Hogansville. Suggested retail prices will now be 69 cents a towel compared with the previous price of 88 cents. Cutting, sewing and packaging operations previously performed by the Company at North Bergen, N. J., have been consolidated at the Georgia plant. Carosel towels, designed to impart a higher polish to china and glassware, have a content of 20 percent asbestos and 80 percent cotton. They are produced in a variety of colors.

NEW HUDSON SETUP — Georgia will be included in the Eastern Division of the Hudson Motor Car Sales Corporation under a new organizational set-up in which four sales divisions will replace the six now in operation. Zone offices of the Eastern Division, which will be headed by C. H. Calhoun, with headquarters in New York City, will be in Atlanta, Boston, Buffalo, New York, Philadelphia and Washington. The Hudson Company has also established a North Central Division, with headquarters at Detroit; a South Central Division, with headquarters at St. Louis, and a Pacific Division, with headquarters at Los Angeles.

HEAT CONTROL—The Atlanta branch office of the Johnson Service Company, of Milwaukee, announces the development of the Johnson Three-Point Controller, a new electronic automatic temperature control apparatus for homes and small buildings. This device "anticipates" heating requirements of the house and "changes the size" of the heating system in accordance with outdoor temperature, officials say. Designed for use with all hot water and warm-air heating systems, this apparatus continuously measures outdoor, indoor and heating temperatures. An electronic amplifier then translates the temperature measurements into controlling action whenever a temperature change takes place at any of the three control points.

NEW BUILDING—Belle Isle Enterprises are constructing a $100,000 building at the corner of Techwood Drive and Harris Street, N. W., to house Belle Isle Tires and Accessories, Inc. The new structure, to contain 6,500 square feet of floor space, is being put up on top of the new Atlanta Baggage and Cab Company building to house the Yellow Cab Shops. The equipment of the new Belle Isle Building will be of the latest types and will cost $20,000. Belle Isle expects the new building to be ready within 60 days.

LARGER TOAD LOOKS HIS FEARSOMEST

FINDERS INSPECT FEARSOME STRANGERS

HORNED---FROM TEXAS?

Old Toads 'Out of Place'

What are two Texas horned toads doing in Atlanta? That's what curious families on Claremont St., N. W., would like to know.

The spiny-scaled, lizard-like animals were found crawling around their sandy yards by Joan Carol Allen, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Allen, 1850 Claremont St., N. W., and Virgil Griffin, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Griffin, 1866 Claremont St., N. W.

Inhabitants of the dry, sandy plains of the Western United States and Mexico, horned toads are rarely found east of the Mississippi, and, according to the Grant Park zookeeper, seldom live long in this climate.

W., Atlanta, were among those who visited the USS Atlanta on her recent trip to the Puget Sound Naval Shipyard, Bremerton, Wash. While in Atlanta, Mrs. Hazelton worked actively in the war bond drive for funds to build this $60,000,000 cruiser to replace the USS Atlanta lost Nov. 13, 1942, during the Battle of Guadalcanal.
